

Girls Beat the Boys But 500 Fund Won

Halls at Mount Douglas High School were lined with money yesterday as boys and girls competed in a penny, nickel, dime and quarter drive for The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund.

The final count last night

showed the girls beat the boys in the close race but the big winner was the Colonist 500 Fund, which received the $29 total which the contest produced.

To decide which side had won, vice-principal James Muir laid out two long pieces of sticky tape in the school's main hall. Coins collected were glued to the tapes and the coins on the girls' tape stretched a greater distance down the floor.

The drive was started by the president of the Y Teens Club, Maureen Reid. She enlisted the help of Sigma Tau Hi-Y president Win Tomlin. Both clubs agreed on a friendly competition between boys and girls.

Students started the drive Tuesday by placing collection tins around the school, but they soon discovered there was no way to show how the competition was going. The thoughtful young students helped the 500 Fund along another step towards providing a little something extra at Christmas time for the Victoria area's 500 neediest families.

Donations should be addressed to The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund and mailed or left at 2631 Douglas Street or the downtown office at 1215 Broad Street.

Army Report Warns

Reds Closing Economic Gap

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A report prepared for the army by a Johns Hopkins University group declared yesterday that Russia's rapid economic growth threatens to make the United States an inferior power within 10 years.

The report, covering an issue that figured prominently in the recent presidential election campaign, said the American people have a right to be "alarmed" about the relative status of their country and the Soviet Union. But it also asserted that U.S. policy makers could reverse the present trend—and with-out huge new federal spending. It said "modest changes in U.S. growth policies could bring substantial progress toward matching U.S.S.R. cold war activity."

Stetsons Everywhere

Cigar Was Lit—So Was Blonde

By JIM PEACOCK

VANCOUVER (CP)—The natives could be excused if they thought it was a convention of cowboys, for the white hat that has become the symbol of Calgary was everywhere. But in fact it was the lid blowing for celebrations preceding today's Grey Cup football championship game between Edmonton Eskimos and Ottawa Rough Riders, kickoff scheduled at 1.30 p.m. PST.

Pre-game celebrations started as early as Tuesday, but they were mild and subdued by Friday's standards. Even Thursday night, in the heavy rains and the absence of the vanguard of Calgary fans who have been largely responsible for the festive atmosphere that surrounds this sports classic, this city was quiet.

Friday, however, that all changed. The weather improved—it was cool, mostly cloudy, but without rain—and six special trains, twice as many special flights and all the regular service poured fans into town by the thousands.

By noon Friday, when the 24-car white hot CPR special from Calgary, arrived only slightly late, the noise of the hoopla could be heard for blocks.

Led from the train by a cigar-smoking (yes, it too was lit) young blonde, wrapped in furs and topped with a 10-gallon white hat, the Calgary crowd immediately set out to turn the city upside down.

It did a commendable job, marching up Granville Street behind the smoking and banging fire rig used for such occasions by the Vancouver firemen's union, and taking full charge of the Vancouver Hotel, the city's largest and the centre of Grey Cup celebrations.

Not five minutes later, there was square dancing in the lobby.

A 19-car special from Winnipeg had arrived a few minutes earlier and many of the fans from it joined in. The party was started and as each hour passed, more people arrived to keep it rolling.

The horde from Edmonton was late, their four special CNR trains delayed several hours by a slide in interior B.C., but they added their voice to the hoopla by early evening.

Nobody expects the din to fade until the wee hours of Sunday, long after the last point has been scored at Empire Stadium.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mary Jo Powell, 19, a dark-haired beauty from Edmonton, Friday night was chosen Miss Grey Cup 1960.

The West made a sweep of the annual beauty contest which accompanies the East-

West football classic, with Miss Saskatchewan Roughrider, 20-year-old Lee Oakenfold, named second and Miss Winnipeg Blue Bomber, Patricia Little, 17, in third place. Miss Powell is a student at the University of Alberta. She is secretary of the student union and a member of the University symphony orchestra. She is five feet eight inches tall, weighs 125 pounds, has green eyes and vital statistics of 36-24-36.

PEACE IN SIGHT IN GRAIN STRIKE

Getaway Car Just Couldn't

VANCOUVER (CP)—Wayne Perry Dodds, 18, and Louis George Glendale, 18, who escaped Wednesday from Oakalla, cautiously pushed a "borrowed" car down a nearby hill to try to start it.

They really didn't have a hope—the engine had been dismantled for repairs. Police arrived while they were still trying.

John D Joins Strike Talks

Embargo Monday

MONTREAL (UPI)—An embargo on all shipments of livestock, poultry and other perishable freight on Canada's major railways has been issued to take effect at 12.01 a.m. (local time) Monday.

New Zealand Voting Today

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP)—The only Labor government in the Commonwealth faces a severe test in New Zealand's general election today.

In office for three years, Labor went to the country holding 41 of the 80 seats in the House of Representatives to the opposition National Party's 39.

He has summoned top-railway and union leaders to Ottawa for an emergency round of talks aimed at settling the multi-million-dollar wage impasse before it reaches the Dec. 3 strike deadline.

UNIONS FIRST Backed by Labor Minister Starr, Transport Minister Balcer and Postmaster-General Hamilton, he will confer first with union negotiators headed by Frank Hall of Montreal, then with railway presidents Donald Gordon of the CNR and N. R. Crump of the CPR. Mr. Diefenbaker did not say what he may have in mind for the crucial talks.

SEVEN NOW There are indications the government may propose a compromise involving a two-step pay increase with seven cents an hour now, possibly subsidized by the treasury. The other seven cents of the conciliation board recommendation would be left to a government-appointed arbitrator. Informants indicate such a part-now, part-later plan would meet opposition from the union leaders.

Handlers and Companies Accept Mediator's Terms

VANCOUVER (CP)—Federal Mediator F. Craig Munroe announced yesterday that company and union negotiators have accepted his recommendations for settlement of the grain handlers' strike.

He said in a statement that the grain handlers union will recommend acceptance at a union meeting Sunday. The company negotiators would meet their principals during the weekend.

Mr. Munroe said he congratulates both parties "for their good sense in settling" the strike at this time.

SOME RELIEF In a report released Friday he recommended a total wage increase of 23½ cents an hour in a two-year agreement. The agreement would provide for separate increases of 13½ cents and eight cents and a two-cent increase in the 11-cent cost-of-living bonus. In recommending the increases that would bring the base hourly rate of the 325 handlers to $2.36 in the second year of the contract, he suggested some relief to employers in the matter of reclassification of employees.

The strike has caused strong reaction in the grain belts and a severe tie-up of shipping in Vancouver harbor.

NOT MAIN POINT

Ed Sims, grain handlers spokesman, has said the wage issue was not the main point in the dispute.

To that Mr. Munroe said the position of the two parties on the question of changes of employment and reclassification remained inflexible.

Mr. Munroe recommended that the two-year agreement be dated from the resumption of work.

A Victoria businessman was one of three men rescued after their small plane crashed on a Fraser River sandbar yesterday afternoon.

FREDERICK PROCTOR

Frederick Proctor, 48, of 2663 Musgrave, a partner in Wilson and Proctor Ltd., a machine shop at 1125 Wharf, suffered internal injuries.

He was taken to Vancouver General Hospital along with pilot Fraser Jansen of Vancouver, who suffered head injuries, and William Whiles of Burnaby, who suffered chest and abdominal injuries.

Mr. Proctor, a veteran pilot who owns his own plane, was on a business trip. He was picked up about noon at Patricia Bay Airport by the other two men in a Cessna 172 owned by West Coast Air Services of Vancouver.

The small plane crashed on a sandbar near Steveston at 4.30 p.m.

One man was taken from the sandbar by a fishing boat which was unable to reach the others because of low tide.

An RCAF helicopter, guided by flickering lights of fish-boats, later made a hazardous night landing on the sandbar to rescue the other men.

Trio Nabbed $200,000 Ransom Paid

WASHINGTON (AP)—A rich California sportsman who was kidnapped in San Diego Wednesday night has been rescued after paying a $200,000 ransom, the FBI said Friday night.

The kidnap victim, Anthony Alessio, 41, whose family operates the Caliente race track in Tijuana, Mexico, was unharmed. Three suspects were arrested and a large part of the ransom money was recovered, the FBI said.

The FBI, which kept news of Alessio's kidnapping quiet until Friday night, said the ransom was paid in cash in a Hollywood parking lot. Alessio was found an hour and a half later in a San Diego motel, still handcuffed.

The FBI report said Alessio was seized by two armed men as he arrived home late Tuesday from Caliente. They handcuffed and blindfolded him and took him in his own car to an abandoned San Diego house.

Within minutes of the kidnapping, Alessio's wife Virginia received a telephone call in which $650,000 ransom was demanded.

The swiftly-moving investigation led to the arrest of Robert James Gorman, 29, of Monterey Park, Calif.; his wife, Ruby Elaine, 30, and Selma Clark Marrone, 25, of Los Angeles.

Her husband, Frank Marrone, 31, was identified as one of three or four fugitives being sought throughout the U.S., Canada and Mexico.

'Yard' to Help Montreal Police Shuffle

MONTREAL (CP)—Mayor Jean Drapeau announced Friday night he has arranged to have a Scotland Yard detective and a retired general-director of the Paris police come to Montreal to help reorganize the Montreal police force. They will be expected to observe the workings of the Montreal police force, troubled this year by a crime wave.

No Direct Aid

U.K. to Help Ease Drain on U.S. Gold

LONDON (AP)—Britain promised support Friday for Washington's drive to persuade Atlantic alliance nations to shoulder more of the common defence load and ease the drain on U.S. gold. This was announced by government officials as the U.S. economic mission of Treasury Secretary Robert Anderson and Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon ended a day of talks in London.

The mission did not ask for direct British financial aid in its talks with British treasury, foreign office and trade officials, the officials said.

Instead, it was agreed both countries would use their influence in the 15-nation alliance for action to relieve the U.S. foreign defence burden.

A mercy flight by an RCAF aircraft from Vancouver was made last night for a five-week-old baby boy in remote Tofino on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

Details were not available at press time.

The RCAF Dakota, piloted by Flt. Lt. Ed Trewin, arrived back in Vancouver about midnight.

A hospital spokesman at Tofino said the baby was kept there for several hours prior to the flight, but declined to say the nature of its illness.

U.S. to Cut New Loans

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The United States said yesterday it does not intend to contribute in the near future to any new international agencies set up to dispense loans to under-developed nations.

U.S. representative Frederick Payne at the same time emphasized that U.S. contributions to existing agencies and aid programs would continue.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

WHY not a plastic football field? There would be no more worries about the weather then—on Grey Cup day or any other day.

Bernie Evans, partner in a Victoria plastics firm, gave a tolerant chuckle when I put the question to him.

"It could be," he said. "We've seen so many Buck Rogers things come true that the sky's the limit now."

The plastic football field would have to be made of some substance that boots could dig into. But it would also have to be stuff that didn't get soggy in the rain.

The big plastic overcoats that protect football fields before the game are a recent development, too.

"Now we have things that were unthought-of, five years ago," Mr. Evans said. "Plastic capsules for space craft, stronger than steel. Plastic liners for pools. Monsanto has built a house completely of plastic—except for the electrical wires."

"So plastic football fields could come." Thus far, however, science hasn't hatched anything better than grass and dirt.

The Grey Cup game has some disturbing side effects. For one thing, it unlocks the door of the padded cubicle in which sportswriters are usually kept, and lets them stampee through the part of the paper that is usually reserved for general news.

Sometimes it takes a week before they can be rounded up, bellowing and kicking, and herded back into their enclosure.

The special language of sport (Sportugese?) seeps out and spreads through the whole paper, leaving some ugly stains.

"What do you mean," I asked a sports writer, "when you say the team is 'prepping' for the game?"

"Any sports fan knows what that means," he said loftily.

"Don't try to mean an outsider of me," I protested. "Does it mean training, preparing, discussing strategy, or what?"

"All those things," he said. "Preparing, mainly."

"Then why not say preparing?"

"Sports-fans understand," he said.

"Bah! Spectator sport!" I said.

That slogan: "Bah! Spectator sport!" must have been current in ancient Rome, too.

"In my day, we fought our own lions," said the old boys in the expensive seats at the Forum.

"We didn't keep Christians and watch them fight."

"Yes, the younger generation is going soft. Mark my word, it will be the downfall of the Empire one day."

Your Good Health

Gall Bladder Can Perforate

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, MD

When an X-ray of the gall bladder is needed, the patient takes some dye by mouth the night before. This dye goes to the liver and by 12 hours later it has concentrated in the gall bladder. Gallstones or growths in the gall bladder, if any exist, will show up against the shadow cast by the dye.

Then the patient is given a meal containing fats. The gall bladder contracts, to expel the contents, needed to digest fats, and a second X-ray then gives a comparative picture. These X-rays are about 90 per cent reliable in indicating whether or not a gall bladder is free of disease and operating properly.

DOESN'T SHOW

Again, the result may be a non-visualized gall bladder, meaning that it just doesn't show on the X-ray plate. There are a dozen or so reasons why this may occur, some of them quite casual and accidental, such as the patient's failure to take the dye according to instructions. This calls for a second X-ray.

However, nine times out of 10 the non-visualized gall bladder is one which simply does not fill, hence isn't operating, and is diseased in some way. In perhaps 60 or 75 per cent of these cases, there are stones in the gall bladder or its outlet ducts.

Will pain recur? Could the gall bladder burst? Is it dangerous to ignore the organ simply because pains have ceased?

Return of the pains, if stones are present is certainly possible although not a foregone conclusion. I'd say it "tends to be likely."

Can the gall bladder burst? I should prefer to say it can perforate—but there will be inflammation and other symptoms, and there will be so much distress leading up to it that the patient invariably will already be under medical care if this occurs. It isn't the sort of emergency that arises out of a blue sky.

Finally, can you ignore a gall bladder so long as it isn't at the moment painful? Well, that depends on the results of the examination, on other symptoms, on the patient's general condition, age, nutrition, degree of trouble.

There are plenty of cases in which the physician is justified in saying, "Let's wait and see. Maybe you won't have any more trouble."

SOMETIMES OBVIOUS

There are other cases in which it is obvious that more trouble is pretty sure to occur. In such instances, it is better to remove the gall bladder, rather than wait for more serious trouble or endure repeated attacks. Certainly where there has been trouble, and the X-rays result in non-visualization, I'd prefer to remove the gall bladder rather than wait.

The gall bladder, while a useful organ, is not a vital one. It is merely a storage place for the digestive material produced by the liver, and you can live comfortably and, indeed, free of symptoms after its removal.

'Dirty' Charges Fail to Delay Housing Scheme

OTTAWA (UPI)—The federal government's new housing legislation aimed at increasing employment across Canada was given final approval by the House of Commons yesterday after a noisy and often heated debate marked by angry name-calling.

The bill will make housing loans easier, aid municipalities in slum clearance and provision of sewage treatment plants and give loans to universities for residence construction.

WORST IN YEARS

It started when Works Minister David Walker commented on Liberal Lionel Chevrier's absence during the debate. This provoked Chevrier to counter with the charge that Walker was "one of the smallest ministers on the other side of the house, small and cheap in every sense of the word."

DON'T ATTACK

Chevier, who was ordered to sit down, said Walker "should be attending to his chores in the House rather than attacking other people."

This debate followed: Alexis Caron (L. Hull): "Blabber mouth."

Walker: "You are a loud mouth."

Caron: "I am not as dirty as you are."

Walker: "It is a question of definition."

Caron: "Dirty mouth."

Walker: "It is a question of definition. If the cap fits, then you wear it."

Caron: "Put it on your head; you are dirty."

NO RIGHT

Later when Chevier attempted to rise on a point of order, Walker shouted: "Would you sit down and not interrupt? You have no right to be on your feet at all."

Arnold Peters (CCF—Timiskaming) said to Walker: "Sit down, you are rocking the boat, you will upset yourself one of these days."

Walker later said: "You see how stupid (Chevier) is... it shows how futile and insidious the honorable member is."

Chevier countered with: "No one could be more stupid than my honorable friend (Walker)."

Walker: "That was a clever remark, you are an authority on it."

Chevier: "You are the most stupid minister in the government."

The exchange ended after Chevier accused Walker of being "ashamed of yourself," to which Walker replied: "I have been ashamed of you on occasions, but I am not ashamed of myself."

Letter Looked Wrong

REGINA (CP)—"I knew darned well there was something wrong with it," Mrs. Pearl Leier said Friday about a statement Regina lawyer Dr. M. C. Shumatcher took to their Saskatoon home for her husband to sign.

Mrs. Leier was a witness at the preliminary hearing of Dr. Shumatcher on 11 charges of counselling perjury in connection with a 1958 Saskatchewan Securities Commission inquiry.

The witness said the lawyer and her husband Edward, a former securities salesman with Western Bond and Share Co. of Saskatoon, went into the rumpus room.

Later, she said, her husband came up the stairs, asked her to come to the rumpus room, handed her a typewritten statement and asked her to read it.

"Dr. Shumatcher said... It's only to prove there was no conspiracy."

"I asked, 'Is it serious?' he said, 'It could be very serious, that's why he has to sign this.'"

Mrs. Leier said she realized there were several things in the statement which she knew were not true.

LONDON (UPI)—U.S. Treasury Secretary Robert Anderson yesterday wound up empty-handed a mission to win financial help from the Allies and stop a dollar drain to Europe.

The Allies promised only good will, not cash.

Anderson, accompanied by Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon, conferred in London with Chancellor of the Exchequer Selwyn Lloyd and other British officials following unsuccessful meetings in Bonn and Paris on ways to conserve the dollar.

In Britain the U.S. won support for a concerted allied effort to check the drain.

British officials said the U.S.

economic mission did not ask for any direct aid from Britain. But it was agreed both nations would use their influence within the 15-nation Atlantic alliance for action to relieve the U.S. foreign defence burden.

Anderson and Dillon came here from Paris, where they made little headway in trying to get the French to meet more of the defence costs in Western Europe and plug the drain on dollars.

Pain Pills Poison to Tots

TORONTO (CP)—Two Calgary doctors, in an article in the current issue of the Canadian Medical Association Journal, urge the government, drug manufacturers and the medical profession to fight accidental poisoning of children from salicylate—one of the main ingredients of many headache tablets and other "pain killers."

Dr. John U. Crichton and Dr. G. B. Elliott urged the action in an article dealing with 41 cases of salicylate poisoning in children. The doctors made their study in the departments of pediatric and clinical pathology at Calgary General Hospital.

They said they were most concerned with the poisoning of children given salicylate compounds as treatment.

"...The majority of serious salicylate poisonings in children were therapeutic in origin and therefore largely preventable," the article says.

"They were frequently caused by the use of adult preparations."

The doctors said treatment "is notoriously difficult and not yet fully standardized, so that prevention still offers by far the best solution."

Realism and Courage

PRIME Minister Diefenbaker's comments on the government attitude toward the now perennial problem of Red China and the more recent question of nuclear arms for Canada are both realistic and timely.

Though the two subjects would appear to be widely divergent, it cannot be denied that they are inseparable in any quest for international peace and security, and as such, will attract world attention.

Deliberately rejecting the United States' myopic policy of keeping Communist China from the international conference table at all costs, Mr. Diefenbaker has launched what is, in effect, a world-wide appeal for immediate reconsideration of China's membership in the United Nations.

No other leader in the Western Alliance has had the courage to voice such an opinion—though it is no longer a secret that many hold similar views. It remained for Canada's Prime Minister to ally this country with common sense and realism, and for this he may yet receive the thanks of his own countrymen and the plaudits of all peace-loving people everywhere in the world.

Even if the member nations of the UN disregard the frightening knowledge that China is about to emerge as a nuclear power in her own right, they can hardly dispute the urgent message contained in Mr. Diefenbaker's statement: "So vast and numberless a people cannot be ignored. The world is too interlocked with its common dangers to exclude almost one-quarter of the human race from areas of major political settlement."

The prime minister's approach to Canada's position in the acceptance of nuclear armaments was equally sharp and to the point. It would not be too much of an exaggeration to say that this statement, too, contained material well calculated to place this country's status on a higher level in the ranks of NATO than it has ever before achieved.

Mr. Diefenbaker has now clearly advised the Atlantic Alliance that Canada will not consider adopting nuclear weapons unless she has complete equality of control over them. Further to this, the prime minister declared that even if such an agreement were reached over such missiles, Canada would not arm herself with them unless the deterioration of world affairs indicated no other course open to her.

He made it clear that such a policy would in no way interfere with Canada's support of NATO. Canada, he said, would continue to play a major role in the Alliance and would reject any suggestion that she be reduced to a secondary or subsidiary position.

Both of the prime minister's statements of policy should go far to create a realignment of purpose both within the United Nations and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The Banks Go to War

RECENT statements made by Mr. James E. Coyne, governor of the Bank of Canada, John S. Proctor, president of the Imperial Bank, and Allan T. Lambert, president of the Toronto-Dominion Bank, suggest there is a wide cleavage in Canadian economic policy thought between the central banks and the chartered banks.

Mr. Coyne in a speech to the Canadian Club in Toronto said that Canada was in a desperate position through borrowing too much from abroad, and that it would henceforth have to do more of its own capital financing if economic chaos was to be averted.

In Mr. Coyne's opinion it was not Bank of Canada policy that sent Canadian borrowers to New York and elsewhere abroad for their new loans. He found other scapegoats, among them the chartered banks.

"It is quite apparent," he said, "that the banks have had plenty of funds available for their normal commercial lending. In addition to taking care of all normal requirements they had several hundred million dollars left over which they invested in Government securities and in the field of consumer credit. . . . If any business is not now getting essential bank credit it is not because of any shortage in the aggregate quantity of money in the country, or any shortage of loanable resources within the banking system."

Stung no doubt by this attack on the chartered banks, Mr. Proctor at the recent annual meeting of the Imperial Bank clearly placed the blame of Canada's foreign borrowing on the "tight money" policy of the Bank of Canada.

"A large part of the rise in our foreign debt has come about by the sale abroad of securities by provincial and municipal governments who found they could borrow at cheaper rates in New York," he said.

It was this foreign borrowing which was keeping the Canadian dollar at a high price, and was hindering exporters and manufacturers generally.

Mr. Proctor said borrowing abroad would not stop until the differential in interest rates between Canada and the United States was closed, and he pointed out that this could be done by adopting an easier money policy in Canada—a course to which Mr. Coyne is absolutely opposed.

"The stimulus which this would bring to Canadian producers might be more important than the effects of lower interest rates," he said.

Mr. Lambert's sentiments were similar. He attacked the premium on the Canadian dollar and indicted the Bank of Canada for failing to increase its $1,000,000,000 exchange reserve fund during the growing '50s, and its refusal to use the fund to hold the line on the dollar although this would not have imposed any burden on the resources of the country and the government.

Bankers are the experts on these matters, and when the top men in the business are so obviously at variance, the time seems to be ripe for the government to get the Bank of Canada and the heads of the chartered banks into round-table conference and keep them there until such time as an over-all banking policy can be established.

Monument to Timidity

THE most charitable thing that can be said of the city council's handling of the sign bylaw is that it was an uninspiring performance. Seldom has a municipal body so docilely allowed commercial interests to lead it around by the nose.

For all the difference it would have made, the council might almost as well have let those same interests draw up the bylaw in the first place. The original draft had to go to a watered-down fourth version before approval could be obtained.

In all this vacillating, timid negotiation the wishes of the sign industry and some of those displaying its wares appear to have been paramount. Almost everything in the earlier drafts to which these interests objected was taken out of the final tepid document; almost everything they asked for was put into it.

Throughout, the council seemed afraid to make a single move without the say-so of those to be governed by the new regulations. If that is an exaggeration of the degree of compliance, the council has only itself to blame for the impression which has been created, because of the manner in which the issue was approached and debated.

By council is meant the council as a body—not all of the members as individuals. Happily there were some with the courage to resist the blandishments of the industry; with the perspicacity to detect the elements of unfairness in the bylaw, which will grant to some for no less a period than eight years rights which will be denied to others after the measure becomes operative.

Happily, too, there were members of the council interested enough in the belated efforts being made to improve the appearance of the capital city—especially its approaches and central area—to see in this bylaw the frustration of much that the planners have been striving for. Unfortunately there were not enough of them to prevent the erection of a depressing monument to the 1960 council's lack of vision and determination.

With the Classics

When we were idlers with the loitering rills,
The need of human love we little noted:
Our love was mature, and the peace that floated
On the white mist, and dwelt upon the hills;
To sweet accord-subdued our wayward wills:
One soul was ours, one mind,
One heart devoted,
That, wisely doating, ask'd not why it doated,

And ours the unknown joy, which knowing kills,
But now I find, how dear thou wert to me;
That man is more than half of nature's treasures,
Of that fair Beauty which no eye can see,
Of that sweet music which no
ear can measure;
And now the streams may sing
for others' pleasure,
The hills sleep on in their eternity.

"We'll let you co-exist with us a while longer"

Hiroshima . . .

An Indelible Reproach

By R. W. Q. H.

HIROSHIMA—This city, which has risen from the dead, was literally fried alive 15 years ago. It is necessary to visit this place to fully understand the horror of that awful morning when the first atom bomb was delivered on target.

Today, Hiroshima is a thriving city once more with a population about the same as Winnipeg. On that August morning in 1945 it was somewhat greater in people and the buildings were much more densely packed. At 8 a.m. on that day crowds were hurrying to work. The western headquarters of the Japanese army was pulling itself together to deal with another day of shortages of supplies and equipment.

At 8.15 a.m. Hiroshima had ceased to exist. Only a double mushroom-shaped cloud remained to cover the screaming survivors; 200,000 human beings were snuffed out of existence; 163,000 were scorched and wounded. Hardly a building was left standing and those that were upright were gutted. On the shattered doorstep of Hiroshima's largest bank there still remains the imprint in stone of the shadow of a beggar photographed in granite by the radio-active brilliance of the atomic burst. That shadow, like an indelible reproach, and the gutted industrial exhibition building, are all that remain outside of the museum to admonish constantly those who view it.

Here, in the museum, are preserved the pitiful rags of clothing taken from the bodies of the dead who were not obliterated. Here also is a model of Hiroshima and how it looked at 8.15 a.m. on that day in August, now 15 years ago. Here too is a message of hope showing how this dreadful thing can be turned to peaceful constructive purposes.

Before coming to this place I had read quite a bit about the events of that morning and the aftermath. This did not prepare me for the almost physical blow between the eyes that a cliff-side view of the rebuilt city provided. Nothing in the range of eyesight was in existence 15 years ago. The wide boulevard streets, with their struggling transplanted trees, were testimony enough to the devastation wrought in the twinkling of an eye. Huge new office buildings, new factories and shipyards, new shops and theatres, new houses still built in the age-old unpainted style, new parks, new schools and behind, on the cliff side, the special research hospital on radiation cases. All new. Everything new except the age-old fact of man's inhumanity to man.

Now the authorities are struggling with problems of overproduction from the new mechanized industries. Hiroshima's life is going on. Hiroshima's oysters are once again the best in Japan.

Life for the working people is gradually becoming better than ever before. But the powers which have the bomb, now 2,000 times more deadly, continue to evade their responsibility to see that it does not happen again.

Yes, I think it would be an excellent idea to move the Geneva talks to the museum at Hiroshima. There the complex problems of "balance of power" might dissolve as the delegates considered the physical results of what failure will mean to the race of men who can destroy in a flash all that it had taken centuries to create.

Gerald Waring

Reports from Ottawa

AS the person who started all this talk about a 1961 election (with a column published Oct. 24, 1959), I have a paternal interest in the matter.

But ever since the provincial vote in Saskatchewan I have considered that the chances have been growing slimmer and slimmer. And so, unlike some of my colleagues, I do not read "June election" in the Throne Speech.

The most that can be said about the Speech and the early opening of Parliament in this context is that Prime Minister Diefenbaker has left the way open for a 1961 election if the omens look propitious when 1961 is well under way.

But looking at the omens right now, I am confidently making plans for a pleasant summer in '61, with no election to turn the holiday season into toil and turmoil.

So, I believe, are Lester Pearson and all the rest of the Liberals. That is, in their innermost thoughts. But for publication they are talking '61 election.

This tongue-in-cheek performance is cued by the fact that they don't want a '61 election. The Liberals believe that time is on their side; that the longer the election is postponed, the better their chances. And they know that it's pretty good psychology to call the shot for '61, in the light of Diefenbaker's propensity to do the opposite of what the pundits say he'll do.

The opposition, CCF as well as Grits, uses such terms as "desperate" and "back to the wall" to describe the government's situation. They accuse the government of failure to plan from crisis to crisis.

The Packstack

Eat, Drink and Git

By GREGORY CLARK

ONE of the most popular wayside restaurants on one of our main highways has lately done some re-furnishing. A new room has been built on, and most attractively decorated. And with this added space they have been able to introduce something they have hitherto lacked: a counter with 14 stools for the convenience of those in a hurry who just want a quick sandwich; or for that other element who only want a cuppa coffee.

But in keeping with the style of the rest of the restaurant, this is no ordinary counter. It is very spare and modern, uncluttered and clean. And the stools are not common round stools. They are these plastic bucket seats, rounded, smooth, bright and extremely comfortable.

Comfortable, that is, for sitting forward while drinking a cup of coffee or eating a hasty sandwich. Into their design and construction has gone all the shrewd genius of modern engineering. For except while you are actually sitting in the necessary attitude in which to drink or eat, they are the most uncomfortable seats imaginable. They pitch you forward. Their bucket design forbids dawdling. They are truly functional. Eat, drink and get on your way. They offer no repose for the daller, legs akimbo, elbow on counter, mouth ajar. Science has invaded our leisure.

Wardrobes and War

(From The Toronto Telegram)

IT'S all very well that British girls are wearing Communist Chinese mink, that Russian beauties are buying London-made shoes and wearing lipstick from the west. No doubt this sort of exchange will improve the ladies' appearance. But there are hazards, too, that mustn't be overlooked.

It's been suggested that these fashion dealings indicate a thaw in the cold war, but in fact they could lead to the very opposite. What if the shoes pinch? Will a Moscow maiden's British bunions improve her attitude towards the capitalist world? Might not the lady of Mayfair feel shabby in her Red mink when her friends show up at the opera in silver blue? And think of the lassie from Sverdlovsk for whom a highland-knit cashmere sweater doesn't do the things she expects of it. She is more likely to blame the decadent mill-owners of the west than her own starched diet.

Russia's foreign affairs are conducted almost entirely by men. They have been hard enough to get along with even when our half of the world wasn't interfering with domestic life behind the Iron Curtain. We thought the Russian girls dressed dowdily, it's true, but there was always a secret envy of the Russian husband who didn't have to foot the bill for quickly changing hemlines, cosmetic colors and hat fads. They won't take lightly this insidious and expensive Western attack. Troubled days may lie ahead.

Washington Angle

Stevenson To the UN?

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

A CREEPING tide now eroding the dual foundation stones of American foreign policy, the United Nations and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, coldly confronts the incoming Kennedy administration.

So delicate, so severe and so potential with disaster are these twin problems that an extraordinary prospect is now raised. This is that the post of chief American representative to the UN, whatever its past importance, will become hardly less significant than the job of secretary of state itself.

The United States is alienating some of its oldest allies, notably Belgium and France, by taking at the UN an "anti-colonial" position against their vital interests in Africa. Already there are heavy strains on the unity of the heretofore dominant Western bloc in the UN.

Belgium, tragically buffeted in the Congo, now openly speaks of a possible withdrawal from the UN. France, in the seventh year of her agony in rebellious Algeria, is bitterly hurt with the United States.

Worst of all, NATO itself, the West's basic military alliance, is reeling under all these shocks, no matter how many reassuring words are publicly uttered.

Kennedy's policies, meanwhile, are likely to be even more "anti-colonial" than those of the Eisenhower administration.

The long and short of it is that rarely has any diplomatic assignment imposed so subtle and meaningful a burden upon its holder. He will need the greatest possible skill, the greatest possible human tact and human acceptability, to be able to say "no" to the allies with the least possible damage to the alliance itself.

Thus, President-elect Kennedy's selection of his ambassador to the UN will be one of the most difficult choices he must make. This is the more so because those who know the president-elect believe that in the real sense he will be his own secretary of state anyhow.

The new chief delegate to the UN on the contrary may often be pretty much on his own. He will be removed from the White House both by distance and by the requirement sometimes to act in a quick, ad-hoc way in a forum where faster and faster decisions are becoming more and more necessary.

These are among the reasons why there is a fairly strong belief in Washington now that Adlai Stevenson will wind up in the UN post. His credit abroad is high. He is peculiarly sympathetic, as the Latins put it—meaning highly liked in the human sense—to most of the world. And since his second defeat for the presidency in 1956 he has made it his business to add to his already considerable knowledge of that world, especially of that critical area of opportunity and danger, Africa.

But, all this notwithstanding, Mr. Stevenson is not quite so sympathetic with Mr. Kennedy—and vice versa. Though surely not "enemies," they are not the most intimate of friends. And, justly or not, Stevenson lacks that full backing in Congress which the president-elect believes is one of the requisites for the new secretary of State.

So the solution of Stevenson to the UN looks rather sound all around. The devoted Stevenson backers would like to see him be secretary of state and are urgently appealing to Mr. Kennedy to that end. Stevenson, himself, characteristically, is asking nothing and demanding nothing.

His attitude will actually be more effective than that of his supporters with Mr. Kennedy. The president-elect does not react well to demands, particularly emotional demands. And he is coolly determined to make his top appointments on the sole basis of who he believes would be the ablest man for what.

[Mr. White writes in place of Marquis Childs, who is on vacation].

Emblem in Lights

A UNIVERSITY of Saskatchewan physicist who has spent a good deal of time studying the northern lights says the aurora borealis should be our national emblem instead of the maple leaf and the beaver.

Dr. B. W. Currie's reasoning is that, although Russians, Norwegians, Swedes, Finns and Scotsmen can see northern lights, Canadians can see them best of all.

Discontent with the beaver and the maple leaf is nothing new. It has often been pointed out, for instance, that the true Canadian maple has a rather restricted range and is more a symbol of southern Ontario and the St. Lawrence valley than of our whole broad nation.

Ottawa, Banks Back Exports With Huge Credit Scheme

More
Seen

OTTAWA (CP) — A major new joint program by the government and chartered banks to provide credit for Canadian exports of capital goods was unveiled in the Commons yesterday by Trade Minister Hees.

Aimed at meeting credit competition in world markets by foreign suppliers, the plan will see establishment of a new financing company by Canada's nine chartered banks, backed by government cash and credit.

BEST RAISED

Officials said it could ultimately provide as much as $700,000,000 in medium and long-term credit for exporters. Of this, $200,000,000 would be available from federal funds with the rest being raised by the new company.

MEET COMPETITION

Mr. Hees, in his announcement, described the plan as establishing "new and fully adequate export financing facilities" and said Canadian exporters of capital goods "will thus be enabled to meet credit competition from foreign suppliers."

MORE JOBS

Capital goods exporters who had hesitated to seek new business for lack of credit "now have the assured support they need," Mr. Hees said. It would mean increased employment. It now was up to the exporters "to utilize the tools."

The Commons opposition voiced qualified approval. Lionel Chevrier (L-Montreal Laurier) said the move is "certainly most desirable at this time" of increased export competition.

IMPORTANT NEED

CCF Leader Argue said the plan "should fill an important need."

Government sources said no new legislation will be required. In effect, the scheme will put the present powers of the government's Export Credits Insurance Corporation to new uses.

MAIN EFFECT

Officials said the main effect of the new scheme will be to enable the banks through the new company to borrow money—in a way they haven't been able to before—in order to finance exports on terms of up to five years. They would do this on the strength of repayment guarantees on export deals now provided by the export credits insurance corporation.

PROVIDE FUNDS

The government's insurance corporation would continue, as at present, to provide the funds when export deals must be financed for longer than five years.

The new credit facilities will not cover exports of consumer goods.

BY BORROWING

The company to be set up by the banks will provide credit for terms up to five years, getting its funds by borrowing on the market. Its security will be the promissory notes of the import buyers, insured by the Export Credits Insurance Corporation.

Test Equipment Drivers Warned

A case in city police court yesterday reminded Magistrate William Ostler to put in a "plug" for safe driving week, beginning Dec. 1.

"I would remind all drivers they should pay special attention not to the manner of their driving alone, but to the equipment on their cars," he said. "There have been far too many cases like this one coming into this court."

The case was a charge against Kenneth Jones, 3228 Rutledge, of driving "with inadequate emergency brakes." Jones, who pleaded guilty and was fined $15, said the car involved was now off the road.

Education Tax

Perrault Wins Liberal Battle

VANCOUVER (CP)—The main Liberal plank of the recent provincial campaign—removing school taxation from homes and farms—came under question Friday at the annual meeting of the B.C. Liberal Federation.

A flurry of debate excitement came when Frank Wilson, defeated Liberal candidate for Chilliwack, told the convention, "We ought to take a second look at this proposal."

RANCH ESCAPE

He said with the government picking up the education tax it would mean government underwriting of teachers' salaries and elimination of school boards. Big cattle farm spreads like the Douglas Ranch would escape school taxes while the corner businessman would have to pay.

Delegates clamored for the floor, most in support of the school taxation proposal advanced by Liberal leader Ray Perrault.

GREEN LIGHT

After Mr. Perrault declared educators, trustees and others had pronounced it the best plan of any political party in the election, the more than 100 delegates gave him the green light to pursue the issue with his three supporters when the legislature opens Jan. 26.

Delegates also urged political party donations be deductible for taxation purposes; disclosure of the exact interest rate be made in installment buying and mortgages; the possibility of agreements with European trading blocs and other countries be explored after a high level of employment had been restored in Canada, and a pre-paid medical plan be started for those in need.

In his keynote speech, Mr. Perrault appealed to all segments of the population to support the party—labor, industry, young people and old people.

In Ottawa, he said, there "is confusion, indecision and blind-man's buff." In Victoria there was a regime "whose only idea is self-perpetuation by any means—and these people assure their own destruction."

FEAR CAMPAIGN

And there were some CCFers in the trade union movement responsible for a campaign of fear who had done "a disservice to democracy in British Columbia."

Venezuelans Riot, Strike

Riots came with a strike that paralyzed Venezuelan and international telephone service. There has been growing opposition to President B. tancourt's regime.

Lawyers Hotelman Convicted

TORONTO (CP)—A millionaire Toronto hotel owner, a lumber dealer from North Bay, Ont., and two New York lawyers have been found guilty of stealing $960,000 in money and securities from Brilund Mines Ltd. in 1957.

An assize court jury returned the guilty verdict after being out for more than two days and two nights.

Mr. Justice G. A. Gale charged the jury Tuesday after the 38-day trial of Ben Smith, 46-year-old co-owner of the Prince George Hotel in Toronto; D. Charles Stuart, 34, of North Bay; Stanley I. S. Schonbrun, 38, a New York lawyer; Saul R. Rauch, 45, a member of the New York State bar, and his brother Harold, 42, a manufacturer's agent. Harold Rauch was acquitted.

The convicted men were remanded for sentence to Dec. 1.

Make Gains At New York

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks ended an otherwise indecisive and generally narrow week on a note of strength.

Prices were a broad scramble of minor changes in the opening minutes and a decisive upward trend was noticeable until the end of the first hour.

Thereafter, despite the semi-holiday atmosphere and the fact that Friday normally is a day of caution, the trend was definitely up. Most stocks closed at or slightly below their best levels.

The industrial average wound up at 606.47, up 4.00, chiefly on gains of 3 1/2 in Du Pont, 1 1/2 in General Electric, 2 in Procter & Gamble, 1 1/2 in Texaco, 1 in Eastman Kodak and a point in U.S. Steel.

Lukens added a quarter at 54 and Bethlehem, which recently touched a new low, inched up to 39 1/4.

International Business Machines spurted 4 1/2 in the electronics where gains ran to 3 1/2 in Beckman, 2 in Collins Radio, 1 1/2 in Motorola and 1 1/2 in RCA.

American Viscose, strong recently on rumors it might liquidate its assets, topped 3 1/2 to 39 1/4, Beech added 2 1/2 in the aircrafts, Revlon tacked on 3/4 on recurrent talk that the company soon would market a new "wrinkle-remover."

Ottawa to Raise Cash With Several Loans

By HARRY YOUNG Colonist Business Editor

Departure From Policy

The federal government will raise its financial requirements in 1961 through several small loans, rather than in one large issue, Finance Minister Donald M. Fleming announced yesterday.

The departure from usual government policy was made in connection with a preliminary statement on a new term issue, details of which are to be announced Monday.

Mr. Fleming said he would have to retire a $600,000 loan on December 15, and he proposed to do this by selling $200,000 short-term bonds to the public, by taking $100,000 out of government cash balances; and another $100,000 from the government securities investment account.

The remaining $200,000 would be borrowed from the Bank of Canada.

Although the maturity of the new loan was not announced, it will certainly be of more than one year, because an additional $200,000,000 is to be taken up by the Bank of Canada as a partial advance re-funding of the government's 3 per cent loan falling due Dec. 1, 1961.

Mr. Fleming explained this advance re-funding was being tackled now, because next December's maturity was a particularly heavy one of $1,020,514,000 and he wished to have the re-funding problem at that time reduced to more manageable proportions.

It was at this stage that Mr. Fleming indicated the new government policy of spreading the 1961 financing into several modest issues.

Although the bond market was closed when Mr. Fleming made his statement, the earlier tone had been strong. Many government issues advanced.

BULLISH

Bond dealers regarded the limiting of the public participation in the new loan to $200,000,000 as being "bullish," and one commented that Mr. Fleming might be showing a "lot of wisdom" in distributing his 1961 requirements rather than putting the one in "one big bite."

"He will thus be in a better position to pick his market," he said.

CAR MOVE SCORED

The federal government's decision to increase the valuation on imported cars on Dec. 1 was described yesterday by a Victoria motor dealer as a "slap in the face" to the great export drive which the government is now promoting.

Logan Mayhew told directors of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce yesterday that the move could only cause resentment if not thoughts of re-emigration among the European countries which sell cars here and are among British Columbia's best export customers.

Mr. Mayhew said that although the new price formula would go into effect next week, none of the leading car importers knew what the extra cost of importing cars would be.

"Each model apparently will be rated individually," said Mr. Mayhew, but it was expected that the price increase of English cars—on which there is no tariff—would be about 9 per cent.

He added that the higher prices would extend to 84 models of U.S. manufacturers which are not made in Canada by their subsidiaries here.

"The whole structure of auto prices will go up," he added.

Mr. Mayhew said that one European car manufacturer spent more on Canadian-made aluminum than it received in return from the export of its cars to this country.

He believed it was the auto workers union which had forced the government to give the Canadian industry protection, but he doubted if it would result in any extra employment.

"All it will do is to bring in some more tax revenue to Ottawa, and the motorist will pay the shot," he said.

Support for Mr. Mayhew's protest was forthcoming from Chamber director Hugh Stephenson.

DISCOURAGE THEM

He said British Columbia exported goods to many of the affected car producing countries, and the action on cars might discourage them from adding to their B.C. purchases.

"Our exporters are being sacrificed for the interests of auto manufacturers," he said.

Victoria Chamber of Commerce voted to send a wire to Ottawa expressing alarm at the measure and asked them to review the situation.

Firemen Narrowly Missed Death

'Every Muscle Aches'

Glad to Be Alive

Glad to be alive but still suffering shock after part of a 7,300-volt surge of electricity coursed through his body is volunteer fireman Robert Lewis. Another fireman, Alan Campbell, died Wednesday night after he and Lewis touched a power line with an aluminum ladder while fighting a chimney fire. (Colonist photo by Charles Thompson.)

DUNCAN — Volunteer fireman Robert Lewis is still in hospital confined to bed. Every muscle aches, he said yesterday.

Five minutes before he was almost electrocuted Wednesday night he was studying coverage for firemen under the city's agreement with the Workmen's Compensation Board.

"As soon as I get out of here I'm really going to go into it," he said. "When you think of what happened to Al, you realize that it isn't good enough."

Alan Campbell, 23, an assistant bank accountant, died after an aluminum ladder came in contact with a 7,300-volt power line. He is to be buried today at Vancouver.

"I don't know why it wasn't me. I started to climb up it (the ladder) when the joint came down," he said. "God was sure with me."

"About all I can remember is seeing Al's face and I knew he was dead."

Campbell was the first fireman to die at a fire since the volunteer department was formed more than 50 years ago.

"It really shakes you when you think about it," Lewis said. "Al wasn't under the Workmen's Compensation Act at his job, but they pay death benefits."

NOT COVERED

"I'm not covered under the Act either, because I'm a salesman without a fixed salary."

Lewis said he is covered for doctor bills but if he cannot work for any length of time the city's agreement would bring in less than $100 a month.

He said that more than 12 volunteers in Cowichan department are in the same position.

Lewis hopes to be out of hospital this weekend.

Famous Highlanders March Into History

MUNSTER, Germany (AP) — The Seaforth Highlanders, one of Scotland's proudest regiments, marched out of the atomic age into the pages of history yesterday.

With the skirl of pipes and the sway of the kilt, the regiment staged its ceremonial farewell at a barracks in the Westphalian countryside.

The regiment is a casualty in the reorganization of the British army, now being streamlined for nuclear warfare. Many old regiments are disappearing in the process.

The Seaforth Highlanders, after 182 years of history from the Indian mutiny to the defeat of Germany, are merging with another famous Scottish regiment, the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders. The new regiment will be known as the Queen's Own Highlanders.

At Ottawa, authorities said that in any amalgamation, the succeeding unit inherits regimental affiliations and battle honors. Thus the affiliation of the Seaforth Highlanders of Canada, Vancouver, and of the 1st Battalion, Nova Scotia Highlanders, Amherst, N.S., with the British regiment remain unchanged.

Court Reverses $12,000 Award

B.C. Court of Appeals has reversed an earlier judgment calling for payment by insurance companies of $12,000 to a fish packing firm for loss of 400 tons of raw herring, in a judgment handed down this week.

A previous judgment by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane had ordered payment by the insurance firms to John C. Jackson Ltd. of Vancouver for loss of the herring by deterioration when the vessel in which the fish were being transported south from the Queen Charlotte Islands developed a leak.

Appeal Court judges ruled that the fish cargo was lost from a cause not covered by the insurance, and that no insurance should be paid. In addition, costs of the appeal court action must be paid by the fish packing firm.

Cuba, Latin Reds Take China's Side

LONDON (UPI) — Leaders for Peiping's pledge to help revolutionary parties in underdeveloped countries. No details have emerged from the top secret conference in the Kremlin. But most Latin American Communist leaders are known to be present. Some of them are reported to have been quite outspoken in their support of the Chinese party in gratitude for Peiping.

One Man Injured In Bridge Crash

Booming Area Report Ready

A report prepared by superintendent of lands Thomas Hyslop following a public hearing protesting plans for a booming ground at View Royal, has been completed and sent to Lands Minister Ray Williston.

Mr. Williston will see the report on his return from Ottawa next week.

One man was injured and traffic slowed down when two cars collided head-on on Point Ellice Bridge shortly before 11 p.m. yesterday.

Treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for cuts to the forehead and chin was Henry Flett, 3389 Whittier, passenger in a small car whose driver the police were still looking for early this morning.

Uninjured was Frank Thounney, 22, 408 Bay, driver of the other car.

UN Experts Debate Shakeup

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld began a study Friday with three former presidents of the General Assembly on a possible reorganization of the UN's top level.

They are Lester Pearson, president in 1952, Prince Wan Waihayakon of Thailand, 1956, and Dr. Victor Belandue of Peru, 1959.

El Salvador Rejects Reds

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (UPI) — A spokesman for El Salvador's new ruling junta reiterated yesterday its adherence to Western democratic principles of government and rejected emphatically any suggestion that it is oriented on either pro-Castro or pro-Communist lines.

The spokesman affirmed categorically that the new government has no intention of nationalizing the banks, or of establishing exchange controls or any other banking restrictions.

The government needs and wants additional foreign investment and does not plan any changes in national policy with respect to private property, the spokesman explained. He said political groups are being formed to participate in planned elections for a new congress.

Dry Footing for Grey Cup; Riders, Esks Ready for Fight

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ottawa Rough Riders and Edmonton Eskimos, essentially two ground-power ball-control teams, clash today in the 33rd East-West Grey Cup football final. Everything points to a big afternoon.

The weatherman has promised good football weather for Today's Grey Cup parade will be telecast over Channels 2 and 6 at 9:30 a.m. Game broadcast starts at 1 p.m.

The 1:30 p.m. kickoff and Empire Stadium officials predict dry footing. The Canadian Football League, which runs this extravaganza, has counted an all-time-high $483,000 in receipts from ticket sales, television, radio, film and program rights.

With this background, it is up to the teams to provide the entertainment and thrills for the 37,000-odd crowd who will pay a total of $323,000 gate receipts to watch the game from the stands.

Right now, with this city slowly generating excitement and ready to bust loose with pre-game celebrations, nobody is neutral, except possibly the professional bookmakers. It is East versus West, with gaily-banioned supporters ready to back their heroes with ready cash.

The bookmakers have called the West's ever-lovin' Eskimos to beat the East champions by a 3-3 record in their six appearances. Since 1921 the East has won 23 times and the West nine.

its sixth cup in seven years. Western clubs, sitting ducks for the East in the early days when the game became an East-West affair in 1921, have been flexing their muscles since the explosive Eskimos started the Western uprising with three straight victories in 1954-55-56.

Winnipeg Blue Bombers took over, dropped one to Hamilton Tiger-Cats in 1957 and returned in 1958 and 1959 to whip the Bengals.

This time, the East is different but the East-West rivalry remains the same for the first-ever Ottawa-Edmonton meeting in the classic.

Rough Riders have made the final eight times and hold a 4-4 record. Edmonton has a 3-3 record in their six appearances. Since 1921 the East has won 23 times and the West nine.

ONLY ONE OUT

Each club has been talking all week about injuries to players but, with the exception of the Eskimos' halfback Cowboy Woodruff, all the ailing players will be in action. Woodruff suffered a leg injury in first game of the western play-off.

Rough Riders report three on the limp—fullback Dave Thelen, guard Kaye Vaughan and offensive end Bill Sowalski. Thelen, the Big Four union's record-breaking ground-gainer this year, has been hampered since the East play-offs with a bad ankle, Vaughan a broken toe and Sowalski a leg injury.

Eskimos' leading ground-gainer, Johnny Bright, is bothered by a charley horse in his right leg and broken blood vessels in his thigh but the Big Negro fullback from Drake University said Friday he "wouldn't have bothered to come here if I didn't think we could win."

Jackie Parker, the magic man from Mississippi who powered Eskimos to their 1954-55-56 victories and a fellow who has a great flair for

Player Draft Plan Approved by WIFU

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Western Interprovincial Football Union Friday approved the principle of a player draft system to help equalize the strength of the league's five teams.

The player draft proposal, put forward by British Columbia Lions, calls for each team at the end of the season to place 25 of the 34 players on its roster on a protected list, with the remaining nine players to compose a player pool.

The team finishing in last place in the league standings then would be allowed to choose one player from each of the four teams placing higher in the standings.

R. H. Gillies, WIFU secretary, announced the league's decision at a press conference following a closed meeting. He said it was expected that

Canucks Here Tonight As Cougars Start Over

Victoria Cougars, you might say, start the Western Hockey League season all over again tonight at Memorial Arena when they host Vancouver Canucks.

Cougars, who seem to belong to the give-as-you-get school, have carried the theory to extremes. As of last night when they lost, 8-6, to intercepting a pass out from behind the Cougar net and whipping the puck past Marcel Pelletier.

That was it for Cougars, although they were in contention until the final five minutes. With Canucks ahead, 7-4, Saunders and Goyer scored to cut the margin to a single goal again, only to have Belisle come flashing down the wing again to score the clincher at 15:28.

Victoria — Goal: Pelletier; defence: McLeod, Currie, Hay, North; forwards: Goyer, Ford, Anderson, Mon, Macaulay, Fazel, Wilson, Chorley, Saunders, Johansen.
Vancouver — Goal: Wood; defence: Macnaught, Anderson, Keller, Cahay, forwards: Posen, Kurtenbach, Carmichael, Belisle, Hutchinson, Powers, Wilkie, Roggveien, Babin.
Referee: Lou Paretto, linesmen—Mike Rasmussen, Scotty Morrison.
FIRST PERIOD
1. Vancouver, Kurtenbach (Macnaught) 12:27.
2. Victoria, Macaulay (Johansen) 13:27.
Penalties: Hay 1:06, Cahay 14:21.

Chatham Wins In Russia, 5-3

MOSCOW (CP) — Chatham Maroons got their Russian exhibition hockey tour off to a bright start Friday with a 5-3 victory over a representative Soviet team.

The Ontario club moved to a 3-0 lead in the first period and was never headed.

Although the Russian players showed a great turn of speed they could not match the pay-off pass patterns of the Canadians.

The two clubs meet again Sunday.

Naimark Wins Totem Event

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two pre-bonsplified favorites Friday night scored victories in the primaries of the sixth annual Totem Bonsplif.

Barry Naimark of Vancouver drubbed clubmate Fred Tinning 15-4 to capture the Totem primary. It was his second title of the day. Naimark won the grand aggregate trophy in the $10,000 six-day bonsplif, scoring 12 victories in 13 matches in the two primaries.

Lionel Wood of Edmonton came from behind to win the Evergreen primary 10-7 from Vancouver's Jack McAllister. Earlier in the day McAllister defeated Naimark 10-6 in the Evergreen semi-final, ruling the 1959 B.C. champion's bid to become the only ring ever to go through the bonsplif undefeated.

Naimark, however, reached the Evergreen final with a 7-5 victory over Glen Harper, Duncan, B.C. blanking two ends to hold last rock coming home. Naimark won the B.C. championships in 1959 and Harper a year later.

Bill Price, Edmonton, defeated Victoria's Tony Gutoski, 6-5, in the Fraser Event quarter-final Friday morning. Seven of the eight secondary events were also decided Friday night.

The only match still in progress was a late-starting game between young Jack Arnet's University of British Columbia foursome and veteran Arden Brown in the Vancouver event.

Garnet Campbell of Avonlea, Sask., beat New Westminster's Gerry Nicolson, 16-6, and captured the secondary Capilano Event.

LAST ROCK

Other results saw Harry Hunter of Regina score a last-rock 7-6 victory of Bill Szabo of Mission, B.C. in Burnaby event; Evan Wolfe of Vancouver whip Bruno Tarabula, Calgary, 13-8 in the Dogwood; John MacKenzie, Kimberley, B.C., trip Les Reichert, Vancouver, 10-8 in the Pacific; Bill Bremner, Vancouver, defeated Bill Price, Edmonton, 11-7 in the Fraser; and Buck Glover, Vancouver, roll to a 9-2 victory in nine ends over Bill Robinson of Jasper, in the Seymour.

Arnet, who in all so far has taken 16 of 18 matches in the bonsplif, whipped Ray Dagg of Vancouver 12-5 in the Stanley Park secondary final.

Comets Rise Up Trim Flyers, 7-2

EDMONTON — There was a little trouble here last night deciding just who was on top and who was on the bottom of the Western Hockey League.

Spokane Comets, boasting only five victories all season and sitting in the league basement, invaded the home ice of the league-leading Edmonton Flyers, and drubbed them, 7-2, after spotting Flyers a two-goal lead.

Checking strongly all the way, Comets were led by Max Meklik and Bob McCusker, who each scored twice, Colin Kilburn, Forbes Kennedy and Earl Johnson got the other goals for Spokane, which finished with a four-goal flurry in the third period.

Gord Labossiere and Roger Dejour scored in a space of 48 seconds of the first period, but from then on the game belonged to Comets. Goals by Kilburn and Meklik tied it up before the period ended, and Kennedy sent them ahead to stay with just 32 seconds gone in the second period.

Spokane — Goal: Maniago; defence: Kaiser, Polk, Huot, Hodges; forwards: Topoli, Kennedy, McCusker, Bell, Lamoureux, McKillop, Rathwell, Johnson, Kilburn, Holdaway.
Edmonton — Goal: Biegin; defence: Strate, Haddon, Price, Maroon, MacPherson; forwards: Gaudet, Holmes, Polle, Gobel, MacGregor, Solinger, Haley, Labossiere, Joyal.
Referee: Lloyd Olmstead; linesmen: Curly Brault, Dutchy Van Deelen.

Champions In Finals Once More

Bob Hunt and Maureen Hiberson move into the finals of the Saanich Open Badminton Tournament tonight at Brentwood Community Hall in defence of their singles titles.

Hunt beat Jimmy Wells in last night's semi, and now takes on former B.C. junior champion Mel Chapman, who downed Alex Barloewen, Mrs. Hiberson's competition will come from junior star Judy Humber, who beat Alison Daysmith last night.

Hunt and Ed Hedley take on Chapman and Reg Hoadley in men's doubles, and Ann Currie and Bev Ford play Muriel Knott and Jean MacDonald in ladies' doubles.

In mixed doubles it will be Maureen and Eric Hiberson vs. Miss Humber and Hedley.

IT BEATS ME

By Jim Tang

VANCOUVER—It's Grey Cup eve in Vancouver and while things are rapidly coming to the usual boil, there will be nothing like what happened here in 1955, when matters got a wee bit out of control. This is Vancouver's third Canadian football final and the city is beginning to take this thing in stride.

Merry makers are getting more merry by the serving but police—and benevolent enforcement officials they are this night—believe they can keep everything within reasonable reason by curbing the activities of local hooligans who attempt to use the occasion for licence. Identification is needed to get in some hotels, at others close scrutiny awaits anyone who looks as if he, or she, doesn't belong.

There seems to be more talk about the game than usual, and make no mistake, this town is for the Edmonton Eskimos. It takes far longer to get the waiter to your table than it does to get your money covered if there is even as much as a hint you might be inclined to put it on the Ottawa Rough Riders.

The feeling is the same among the amateur and professional gamblers, the former has no doubts at all, appears surprised that anyone would ask him who will win. "The Eskimos, of course," is the stock, and firm answer.

But among the fans who know their football a little better, there appears to be a sub-conscious gnawing doubt. The Riders come to this Grey Cup final with less fanfare than given most Eastern clubs. But almost everyone who at least deserves some recognition as an expert will tab this one as likely to be uncomfortably close.

They have an almost abiding faith in the superiority of Western football and nothing but admiration for the Eskimos. They argue that any club which can dethrone Winnipeg and keep the Blue Bombers from scoring a touchdown in two successive playoff games just has to have a defence too tough for any attack that the East can produce.

But, just about the time they seem to have themselves convinced, they begin to wonder about the Riders. They think about that huge line and they remember that Ottawa had enough mobility to beat Toronto Argonauts five times in seven games, this season despite the fact that Tobin Rote gave the Big Four league champions the most-explosive attack in Canadian football this season.

Then they think about those Edmonton injuries and wonder if the Eskimos have enough left to get through this one last game. They admit that the Riders are probably a stronger outfit than Hamilton Tiger-Cats were last year and that the Eskimos, physically at least, are probably not as potent as were Winnipeg Blue Bombers in 1959. And they recall that the Bombers needed 17 points in the last quarter to beat the Tiger-Cats.

But about the time that doubt shows, they remember Jackie Parker and the Edmonton resourcefulness and tradition which makes this club so hard to beat when it counts the most.

And that's the way it is with me. My mind changed from half-hour to half-hour and there is more confusion now than ever. Is Western football so superior to the Eastern variety that a battered club can measure what is one of the best balanced and biggest clubs the Big Four has sent into the final in many a year?

I don't think Edmonton will score too often, so it's whether the Edmonton defence can contain the Ottawa attack enough to make a few points do the trick. Ordinarily, I think it could but this isn't ordinary. The Eskimos will send some injured key players into the game and a hard knock could put one or more out of the game early, causing a load that even Jackie Parker won't be able to carry.

Once again, I hope I'm wrong but the thinking as this is written is that this is a pretty good football club that Ottawa has and that it will wear the Eskimos down this afternoon at Empire Stadium.

Next games: Friday, Victoria High vs. North Saanich; Mount View vs. Esquimalt; Belmont vs. St. Louis College.

Esquimalt Dockers got more trouble than expected from Belmont last night, but came through with a 38-21 decision for their second straight victory in the Inter-High School Senior Basketball League.

Dockers, who had what coach Jerry Horn described as an off night, got 18 points from Bruce Mitchell and moved within two points of front-running Oak Bay. The Bays beat Mount View Hornets, 38-21, Friday.

Victoria High Totems coasted to a 58-19 win over St. Louis College in last night's other game. John Louvaas, who played only the first half, was high scorer with 17 points.

Angry Lions Rumored Set To Quit WIFU

VANCOUVER (UPI) — The British Columbia Lions reportedly have threatened to withdraw from the Western Football Conference in a dispute over financial arrangements.

The B.C. threat is said to have been placed before a stormy league meeting in Vancouver on the eve of the Grey Cup game.

Both club and league officials refuse to comment on the situation. However, conference secretary Bob Kramer of Regina denied that the Lions had walked out of the meeting over the issue.

Lions' general manager Herb Capozzi said he could make "absolutely no comment" until after a club executive meeting has been held. Indications are that such a meeting will be called next week.

BOOST FOR POOL

Centre of the squabble is believed to be a proposal to boost each team's contribution to the league's equalization pool from 25 to 40 per cent of net gate receipts: the proposal is part of an overall plan to stabilize the revenues of the West's weaker clubs, particularly the Saskatchewan Roughriders who lost some $67,000 this season.

The Lions, the rich sisters of the league with average attendance of 27,000 a game and net season receipts of about $500,000, would be the big loser under the plan.

RECEIPTS RATED

Under the present pool system, each club's gate receipts are rated against the league average. Those exceeding that figure pay into the pool at the rate of 25 cents for every dollar above the league average. The poorer clubs receive aid from the pool on the same ratio.

The 25 per cent system cost the Lions a reported $39,000.

HERB CAPOZZI

Tickets Anyone?

VANCOUVER (CP) — General manager Herb Capozzi of the British Columbia Lions said Friday night the Lions still have 750 tickets for sale for today's Grey Cup. He said the tickets, most of them for good seats, will be on sale today until 11 a.m.

Players Want More Money

TORONTO (CP)—Canada's professional football players are going to demand more money for league and Grey Cup playoff games and may do it before next season.

"Naturally it won't come this year, but it's in the books, and don't be surprised if it happens before the 1961 season," one player said. "Football is big business, we're business men, and we want a fair shake. It's as simple as that."

MAKE LESS

Biggest complaint is that under the present system players actually make less money in playoff and Grey Cup games than they do in the regular season. Standard contract in Canada calls for $300 for league playoffs and $500 for the Grey Cup final.

Although the same might not apply for Canadian players, it is certain that American imports make more than this for league games, averaging about $1,000 per game.

The players emphasized that in they aren't forming a union. But the biggest beef is the entire salary situation.

"Fifty-six players will be with officials, and hope to have delegates at the 1961 Canadian Football League meeting in Winnipeg. They added that their plans have been in the making for two years, since the last all-star game.

SMARTENING UP

"We've taken a look at gate receipts, television money and so on, and all of a sudden we're smartening up," one player said. "Today's Grey Cup game is expected to net close to $500,000."

One American player favors adoption of the National Football League's plan whereby the club owners get 50 per cent of the net gate of a playoff game, the coaches of the teams get 17 per cent and players get 33 per cent.

"That could amount to a pretty good chunk of money, maybe $1,500 or $2,000 per player," he said.

Another gripe is that players aren't dressed for playoffs aren't eligible for playoff money, although some clubs make allowances for that in their own share of the take.

But the biggest beef is the entire salary situation.

"Fifty-six players will be

Inter-League Games To Start Next Year

VANCOUVER — Teams in the Western Interprovincial Football Union and the Big Four will play a partial interlocking schedule next season.

Under discussion for several seasons, the step was finally agreed to yesterday at a meeting of the Canadian Football League. Details are to be ironed out by a committee with one member from each of the nine teams soon after today's Grey Cup game.

Due to the unbalanced number of clubs (five) in the WIFU, some cities in the east will see only two of the western clubs in the first year of the interlocking schedule and three the following year. Each WIFU city will see two Big Four teams per season.

Still to be settled are such questions as whether to operate under a 14-game schedule, as in use in the Big Four now, or a 16-game schedule as now operated in the WIFU.

Any television revenue will remain in the coffers of the host league. In the past the interlocking plan has been shelved because the WIFU wanted the smaller half of a 60-40 split on all television receipts. The Big Four would not accept because its teams get $3,000 per game compared to $1,000 for games televised in the west.

To help pay the costs of operating under the new arrangements, price of all tickets except those in the end zones will be raised 25 cents for all league games.

Points for victories in interlocking games will count toward team standings in the Big Four and WIFU. Although it has not been discussed as yet, playoff system will probably remain as it is now.

Plans for the interlocking schedule, which follows an example set by the prosperous National Football League, came because it is felt that attendance will improve, even in cities where a team is well out of the running, as fans come for a look at new players and teams.

Just Married
Tiny actress-dancer Debbie Reynolds, whose 1959 divorce from singer Eddie Fisher caused headlines for weeks, was married last night to shoe manufacturer Harry Karl, ex-husband of Marie (The Body) MacDonald. (AP Photofax.)

Judge Rules Herman Loses Freedom
ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP) — Herman, the tough tomcat with a taste for travelling, was branded a transgressor in Superior Court Friday.
Herman still is under a veterinarian's care, recovering slowly from a beating by either a jealous rival or a fed-up householder.
JUDGE RALPH HOYT ISSUED a temporary injunction prohibiting Mrs. Russell Bowler from allowing Herman to trespass on the property of her neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cook.
The action came in a suit by the Cooks against Mrs. Bowler asking $4,000 damages and a permanent injunction to prevent visits by Herman to the Cooks' Siamese cats.
RULE LATER
Judge Hoyt will rule later if the injunction should become permanent.
Mrs. Bowler told reporters that Herman seems to be coming along fine in the pet hospital, "but he won't be home until next week."
When he does get home, her husband remarked, Herman will be confined to the basement.

Sidney Play Ends Tonight
Two-day run of Sidney Coe Howard's drama "The Silver Cord" by Peninsula Players ends in the Legion Hall, Mills Road, Sidney, at 8:15 tonight.
Cast includes Mary Leaf, Margaret Dixon, James Logan, Ken Smith, Ginger Norman and Dorothy Rayburn. Director is Lesley Allen.
Summit Over?
MOSCOW (UPI)—Albanian Communist party chief Enver Hoxha went home Friday, indicating the two-week-old secret Kremlin summit conference of Red leaders either has ended or is on the verge of breaking up.

Floods Go Wild

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Flood waters, poured from ankle to waist depth through scores of western Oregon communities Friday. Heavy rains put one entire town of 1,000 persons, Turner, under water. U.S. 101 along the coast, U.S. 22 across the Cascade range and many secondary routes were blocked by rampaging streams and landslides touched off by a two-day downpour that finally was slackening.
Most residents sat it out as the water swirled into stores and homes, but 50 families were evacuated in scattered areas. No casualties were reported.
Small communities bore the brunt.
Several points reported more than four inches of rain in 24 hours, and the already sodden community of Valselt in the coast range measured 6.41 inches, making a total of 32 inches there in the last two weeks.
There were no evacuations in Turner, nine miles south of the state capital of Salem.

Arsonists Strike Pondoland Again
FLAGSTAFF, South Africa (Reuters)—Another arson outbreak occurred Thursday night in the troubled Pondoland African reserves area. A number of huts were burned down in the nearby Negro township of Balas, where 50 huts were razed early Wednesday.

Show Business
By Dick Williams
"The Misfits," with Marilyn Monroe, Clark Gable and Montgomery Clift, may offer new dramatic opportunities for Marilyn, but she was not ignored in the sex appeal department, either.
One sequence called for her to frolic in the water in a 4½-ounce bikini, race out dripping wet and throw herself into the arms of the late Clark Gable, waiting on the beach.
Onlooker Tom Dooley, Gable's pooch in the picture, couldn't stand it as the cameras rolled. He broke away from his trainer and bolted for Marilyn in the water, so overjoyed that he knocked her down. When she ran for shore, he dashed after her.
Director John Huston decided the scene was too spontaneous to throw out.
"Best method acting I've ever seen," he grunted.

Lost Airliner Hit Mountain

MANILA (UPI)—Wreckage of an airplane, possibly the Philippines Air Lines DC3 that vanished Wednesday night with 33 persons aboard, was sighted today on Mt. Halcon, about 100 miles southeast of Manila.
The wreckage was partially obscured in the dense jungle of the 8,000-foot mountain. The plane was on a 300-mile, three-hour flight from Iloilo City to Manila.

U.S. Bowling Giant Moves Into Canada

By JIM TAYLOR

A giant United States tenpin syndicate is moving into Canada to try and woo Canada's 2,000,000 fivepinners away from their national game and into a chain of luxury tenpin salons.

American International Bowling Company, reports Canadian Bowling Management Magazine, has laid plans for 1,000 new tenpin lanes in 30 new bowling centres across Canada to be built during the next year.

"And the funny part is, the AIBC is connected with Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co., which is still selling equipment to the very houses it is trying to run out of business."

"Three of the new centres are already in motion and we expect to get 12 more going before the ground freezes." At this moment, houses of at least 24 lanes are planned for Toronto, where there will be five, London, Hamilton, Belleville, Kingston, Oakville, Montreal and Quebec City.

At the moment the concentration is in eastern Canada, but the bowling boom is in the west and it is expected that the chain will not be long in moving west.

Bennett confirmed that independent operators, in fivepins and tenpins, are in for a rough ride.

REAL PROMOTERS

"American International are coming in with very grand deluxe houses," he said. "They are real promoters and are going to push the game in many ways."

Just call Don Shaw a money bowler. Two weeks ago he came into Gibson's and told Rod Hendry he was going to win the tenpin jackpot, then at $55, for the highest game of the week over 250. He bowled one practice game, then tossed a 255 and picked up the $55.

He was back last Monday, and told attendant Marg Smith, "You better come over and watch me bowl, I'm going to win it again."

BLOWS SIXTH

So he started with five strikes, picked a cherry to blow the sixth frame, and finished with six more strikes for 263. If no one beats it by midnight Saturday, Shaw is $25 richer, bringing his winnings to $80.

Jim Mills set a new alley record at Aurora Lanes this week with a 659 series on games of 233, 183 and 243. Other high scorers there were Harold Paulding, 631 (200, 224, 203); Alex Quinn, 611 (211, 215); Phil Schultz, 611 (222, 210); Roy Begg, 611 (208, 226); Charlie Cowie, 608 (235); and Carl Locatelli, 604 (215, 206).

High tenpin scorers at Gibson's were Colin Butts, 583 (201, 212); Don Shaw, 582; Jim Taylor, 579; and Sheldon Nipp, 576.

Dave Allan rolled a fine 939 (380) series in the championship fivepin bowling at Capital City lanes, followed by Don Corbett, 779, and Cy Walters, 771.

At Gibson's, the best fivepinners were Emil Liska, 961 (376, 310); Art Fletcher, 881 (402); Jack Goldie, 856 (339); Harry Smith, 812 (312); and Herb Hunt, 798.

Harry Sistrone bowled 904 (378) to lead the way at Esquimalt. Reg Waggoner, 878 (348); Harry Smith, 875 (341); Mark Cunningham, 835 (328); Alec Palypa, 808 (353); Alex Kirker, 780 (318) were the other high scorers.

Bastion Square Restoration Could Revitalize Waterfront, Survey Shows

Restoration of lower town Victoria around Bastion Square could lead to redevelopment of the entire harbor waterfront, a Chamber of Commerce spokesman said yesterday.

Dr. Hugh Borsman said the initial restoration of historic buildings could, as a long-term project, be expanded to include a pedestrian causeway spanning Wharf Street with multi-tier parking below restaurant and entertainment facilities overlooking the water. He indicated both city planners and the Capital Improvement District Commission have ambitious plans for the area.

The courthouse, which is to be restored by the provincial government in 1962, will be focal point of the whole development scheme, said Dr. Borsman who heads a group of government officials and interested businessmen that is conducting a survey of the area. "I don't think there is any question that this will become the real nucleus of the city in time to come," he said.

The committee's first official act will be to assure the provincial government that there is lots of public interest in the proposal to restore the courthouse. Dr. Borsman said his group will urge the city and local businessmen to adopt as a centennial project the task of turning Bastion Square into a mall and restoring at least some of the historic buildings that surround it.

Infection Suspected

All Efforts Fail To Revive Child

City police and hospital staff tried in vain yesterday to revive a two-year-old boy who appeared to be suffering from suffocation.

It was later thought that Royce James Adams, son of Mrs. Donna Adams, 145 Medina, died of some infection, a medical spokesman said. An autopsy was being performed. Constables Fred Acreman and John Kelly, who answered the emergency call at 2:20 p.m., found the child lying in his crib. All the way to nearby St. Joseph's Hospital, Const. Kelly applied artificial respiration. Hospital staff then attempted to revive the boy, to no avail.

Start on Arena Likely Tuesday

Construction of Esquimalt municipality's $400,000 ice sheet and sports arena will begin next week, possibly Tuesday.

Two old houses on the site have been demolished and equipment is already in the area.

Three Rallies Arranged For Saanich

Three all-candidate election meetings have been arranged in Saanich.

The first, arranged by candidate Lionel Speller, will be held in St. Mark's Church hall, Boleskine and Tennyson, at 8 p.m. Dec. 2.

Elk Lake Ratepayers' Association and Prospect Lake and District Community Association have combined to hold a meeting at 8 p.m. in Royal Oak School, Dec. 5.

And A. E. Horner, 1729 Kiser, a ratepayer, has arranged the third meeting, to be held in the CCF Hall, Richmond Road, at 8 p.m. Dec. 6.

PTAs Ponder Probe

TV's Kindergarten Harming Students?

Greater Victoria Parent-Teacher Council will seek school board guidance before investigating the teaching method used in a kindergarten program aired by a local television station.

The probe was requested by Vancouver Parent-Teacher Council, which took exception to the method.

The Vancouver group contends the present method of introducing a letter of the alphabet then illustrating it with an object beginning with that letter is considered harmful to students when they reach Grade 1.

Experts claim, the letter said, this method of teaching leads to confusion and reading difficulties for the average child.

Several members of the Victoria Parent-Teacher Council objected to the use of children in the program commercials. They urged the investigating committee to insist that all advertising material in which the children took part should be placed under some guiding authority.

Members suggesting the provincial government sponsor a non-commercial TV kindergarten were told the department of education is not in favor of pre-primary education.

A week-long visit to San Francisco next spring is under consideration as the next good-will tour sponsored by the tourist trade group of Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Thieves Hit Shop, Shed Coins, Paint Disappear

Two overnight break-ins were reported to city police yesterday morning.

At the White Swan Laundry, on Fort near Richmond, a thief broke open the change machine and stole an undetermined amount of silver. An attempt to break into a soft drink machine failed.

Mrs. M. Brandon, 1245 Bay, told police a shed behind her home had been entered during the night and four cans of paint, valued at $12, stolen.

Scenes of Youth

Veteran Will See Antarctic With Older, Wiser Eyes

By R. O. MARRION

Although his hair is silver, Sir Charles Wright will soon be looking at scenes of his youth with eyes that have never lost the keenness and curiosity of youth.

The scenes he will see he last saw nearly 48 years ago: the ice-covered terrain of Antarctica, even the hut where the British expedition under Capt. Robert Scott spent the winters of 1911 and 1912. Then he was a young scientist, investigating glaciology, meteorology, magnetism, gravity and aurora, and also the man who navigated the search party to Scott's last camp containing his detailed description of his trip to the south pole and his incomplete return journey.

Now he's an older scientist, who three times has "retired" in Victoria, but at the Pacific Naval Laboratory yesterday he appeared to be youthfully itching to get back to Antarctica and a research project in low frequency electromagnetic waves.

Sir Charles will be one of a team leaving at the end of next week to take part in the project jointly sponsored by Defence Research Board and Stanford University in the Antarctic and the Arctic.

ON LOAN

He and D. J. Evans of the naval laboratory, a highly skilled electronics engineer, will go, on loan to Stanford, to Byrd Station in Antarctica.

Arthur Shand and Chris Gibb will go for the naval laboratory to Great Whale River on the eastern shore of Hudson Bay, and Erwin Loken and David Hale to Fort Churchill.

A controlled experiment between Byrd Station and the Hudson Bay points is expected to provide valuable information about ionization at great heights, supplementing knowledge gained from satellite observations.

Highway department officials said yesterday there was little likelihood that the widening of the Patricia Bay Highway will be of a "divided highway" concept.

Plans are now being prepared to widen the highway to four lanes, and the time when this will be done "probably isn't very far away," they said.

One of the main things opposing a divided-lane highway was the expense of acquiring extra right-of-way needed to widen the road, officials said.

Chamber Supports Protest

Not Even Whistle Stop When TCA Fare Rises

Victoria will not even be a whistle stop for TCA a few months after the national airline increases its Victoria-Vancouver fare from $5 to $7, according to G. F. Dunn, director of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and vice-president of the Canadian Chamber.

Mr. Dunn told directors of the Victoria chamber yesterday that TCA could not hope to maintain its proposed eight round trips a day schedule to Vancouver with Viscount planes after it raises its fares after Jan. 1. The differential between the air fare and the ferry fare was too great, he said.

He was supporting the protest made by Mayor Percy Scourah against the fare boost. The mayor said he was concerned about the increase because it was clearly a case of TCA pricing itself out of the market.

40 Per Cent Boost

"The city is being discriminated against with a 40 per cent increase," said the mayor. "TCA has actually reduced the fare for the 150-mile journey between Calgary and Edmonton, but it has increased the fare on the longer journey between Victoria and those cities. It is just too anomalous."

The mayor asked the chamber directors to support his protest to the Air Transport Board in which he asked for a public hearing. "We have nothing to lose but our own time," he said. "I want to see the airline continue its service to this city. It has served us well in the past."

Director Courtney Haddock suggested that with the government proposing to put on extra ferries, the sea route fare might even be lowered further. "Maybe TCA thinks it is fighting a losing battle anyway."

The suggestion was made by Director Logan Mayhew that TCA could cut costs on its service—said to be losing about $1,000,000 a year—by cutting out reservations and taking passengers on a first-come, first-served basis.

The mayor said it cost TCA as much to book a passenger to Vancouver as it did to Montreal.

Losing Operation

Director Eric Mallet thought it might be unwise for the chamber to ask TCA to continue a losing operation. "Maybe we should do everything we can to promote a helicopter service from downtown to downtown."

Mayor Scourah disagreed. "The cost of operating helicopters at present is so fantastically high that a service could not be inaugurated without a heavy subsidy," he said.

"It may be many years before a suitable economic helicopter service is possible."

The mayor added that even the increase in TCA fare to $7 would not take the airline out of the red. "They would need to charge about $12, and that would be ridiculous. We are entitled to a service at reasonable cost."

The chamber agreed to associate itself wholeheartedly with the city in its protest.

Absenteeism Plans Hit by Candidate

Aldermanic candidate Victor Williams yesterday attacked Ald. Arthur Dowell being persuaded by friends and fellow aldermen to stand for re-election although he will be away on a European tour for several months next year.

"I suggest that there's no other place in the city where other members would do a man's work and he still would be paid his wages," Mr. Williams said. "I don't think the city would allow its employees to do it. I am dismayed and somewhat ashamed that we have elected council members putting such irresponsible pressure on Ald. Dowell to keep the status very much quoed."

Last Chance to Make Scene The Blue Note's Been Sounded

Capital Notebook By Peter Bruton

FAREWELL SCENE: Victoria's jazz hangout "the scene" is closing its doors for the final time a week today.

For the past 2½ years jazz and pizza pie have been served from among thousands of entrants across Canada, elected to accept the alternate cash award instead.

All five winners, chosen from among thousands of entrants across Canada, elected to accept the alternate cash award instead.

Now the sponsors are asking themselves: Would a bald-headed man enter a contest offering a year's supply of hair tonic? Appears so.

Secretary Wally Lightbody and president Ken Hole say the lease has run out and it won't be renewed. They haven't got the time to run it any more.

If someone else wants to take it over, they're willing to listen to offers. But the present plan is to close it down on Saturday and move its furnishings (?) to Vancouver.

Yessir, looks as if "the scene" is really gone.

talk, designed to make Ottawa think Edmonton's stars were not as fit as they might be.

NEW ORDER: Apparently Premier Bennett and his cabinet have become really fed up with secretaries and the like interrupting their bull sessions.

A new sign has gone up outside the cabinet door in the legislative buildings.

On one side it has "Executive Council." On the other: "In session. Please leave messages and papers in Room 200."

Officials said that of late there had been too many interruptions during cabinet meetings, especially when a delegation was presenting a brief.

ADVANCE TIP: Maybe there's nothing really to it but one of the latest cabinet orders, dealing with turnips and rutabaga, is signed by acting agriculture minister Kenneth Kiernan.

Mr. Kiernan has been rumored as the man most likely to succeed Agriculture

Some Stores to String Own Christmas Lights

Merchants on Government Street are to put up their own Christmas lights between Yates and Humboldt Street, it was announced yesterday by Robert Thompson, chairman of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce retail merchants group.

Instead of Ferry

Bridges, Tunnel Urged as Link

The provincial government should start construction of a tunnel and bridge project to link southern Vancouver Island with the mainland, rather than build a third ferry, Saanich councillor Ainslie Worthington said last night.

"Money spent on ferries is just going to be wasted," he said, proposing an undersea tunnel from near Point Roberts near Tsawwassen to the Gulf Islands, bridges linking the islands and another tunnel to Vancouver Island.

Coun. Worthington said he will seek an interview with provincial government officials to promote the scheme.

"San Francisco and Oakland were the same," he said. "They had ferries there for years and years, but someone had the foresight to build the bridge."

San Francisco and Oakland are on opposite sides of San Francisco Bay. They are linked by a double-deck bridge which traverses 8½ miles of water.

"People think nothing of driving an hour to get to work," Coun. Worthington added, "and Vancouver workers could live on the Island."

Construction of the proposed new ferry would cost some $3,000,000, he said. Growth of the lower Vancouver Island area will soon make a fourth ferry necessary, he said, and the money could better be spent on a tunnel-bridge system.

"Think of the work such a project would create for British Columbia men and women. It would be a boost to all our industries, and the work could continue all year round."

Coun. Worthington is running again in the municipal election to be held in Saanich Dec. 8.

Candidates Now 10 In Saanich

Saanich council should consider the appointment of a full-time industrial commissioner for actively attracting industries to the municipality, Frank G. Beamish, 88 Sims Avenue, said last night.

At the same time, Mr. Beamish, who is a salesman, announced he will seek election to the council in the Dec. 8 election. He is the 10th person to announce his intention to run.

Other persons who have announced they will contest the election are Lionel Speller, Stanley Eden, Robert Chard, Joseph Casey, incumbent Coun. Ainslie Worthington and Coun. Harold Todd, Cunningham McMillan, Mrs. Mira Yarwood and Mrs. Beatrice Munnell.

Nominations close at the municipal hall at noon Monday.

Minister Newton Steacy in the cabinet shuffle coming Monday.

LIGHT SWITCH: A $500,000 conversion project to switch Empress Hotel power over from the present DC to the generally-used AC system is being planned, according to Empress manager Cyril Chapman.

Most electrical appliances, including razors and television sets, are wired for AC current and special transformers must be used at the hotel to operate them.

Mr. Chapman said it is still not decided if the hotel will continue to generate its own power or buy electricity from the B.C. Electric.

THE BETTER HALF: Victoria's evening journal thought it newsworthy to report that a government stenographer, Mrs. Florence L. Riley, had refused to dine with civil service executives last night because Works Minister W. N. Chant would be present and this was playing "politics."

No mention was made that Mrs. Riley is wife of a CCF organizer and she herself occupies the position of secretary to CCF leader Robert Strachan.

Anglicans Forced to Recruit in U.K.

Priests Won't Go North

By Canadian Press

To keep pace with civilization's northward march, the Anglican Church of Canada is accelerating its work in the Arctic. But it faces a tough task in maintaining its century-long record of missionary achievement among the Eskimos.

THE VOICE OF ONE

By REV. DR. FRANK S. MORLEY

Production and reproduction are two primary facts common to mankind. A sociologically significant fact in "population control" is that despite abundant birth control means and information, young people are having larger families. It illustrates the creative-ness in the true nature of man. We thwart it at our peril.

Emperor Augustus tried to stem sexual indulgence without progeny by taxing bachelors and penalizing adultery with banishment. He failed and sexual morality was a major cause of the downfall of the Roman Empire.

Far More Tragic

If repression leads to abnormalities, undisciplined expression creates far more tragic abnormalities. Civilization does not advance by substituting easy indulgence for too rigid sexual taboos. Dr.
Nelson Bell, executive editor of Christianity Today, maintains that unless the trend is reversed, sex obsession will destroy the United States.
Ignorance is never bliss, but a peril in sex education is that sex is regarded as an isolated part of life. We should repeat over and over again that anyone who treats sex as an end in itself is sick.

It is also morally and intellectually irresponsible to impart sexual education without regard to values. We are also in danger of adopting a naturalistic outlook which accepts sex as merely a function of our animal nature and are seduced into surrendering values which should be prized.

Greatest Dangers

In our approach the church has often aimed at conformity to a legalistic, unlovely moral-ism and failed to impart the ideals and aspirations of a fine family life or the dignity of a rich, disciplined personality. We have failed to impart the creativeness which transforms the primitive hunger into orderly, purposive living whereby the image of the body as a temple of God becomes real.

Christian thought at its highest neither condemns sex nor glorifies it. Christianity demands that it be neither divorced from social responsibility nor separated from man's total personality.
The interable longing for the complete life, for companionship, for meaning, for creativity, for at-oneness with creation, must either end in frustrated, frantic despair or in ecstatic orientation to the Centre. This is the achievement of those who say, "God is love."

Tears

Mother
Returns
To Tots

NEW YORK (UPI)—A mother who abandoned her two young children Wednesday tearfully greeted them yesterday after a court appearance and a promise of help for the plight that led to her desperation.

Eileen Weiss, 29, a jobless unmarried secretary, who had been dropped from city relief rolls, abandoned her son and daughter, Michael, 5, and Maria, 4, in the toy department of Gimbel's department store.

my children," she explained to police.
Miss Weiss was arraigned in felony court on abandonment charges.
Her attorney told the judge that Joseph Rosenfeld, who runs "Big Joe's Happiness Exchange" on radio had promised the young woman money for a new start, a job and an apartment.

Failing to obtain volunteers for work in the North from the ranks of Canadian priests, Rt.
Rev. Donald Marsh is again looking to England for recruits to fill vacancies in strategic mission posts scattered over his 2,750,000-square-mile Arctic diocese.

Concern over the situation is expressed by many churchmen who feel the North calls for a concerted effort to recruit Canadian clergy. With the Eskimo slowly emerging from a stone-age culture the problem of his assimilation into Canadian civilization is a delicate one.

Bishop Marsh says the "task of recruiting Canadian-born priests for the North is very difficult." He gave the growth of materialism as a reason.

UNDERSTANDING

"Such a plan will give southern diocese a deeper understanding of northern problems.
"We need priests who will help to prepare the Eskimo for our Canadian way of life," says Canon Davis. "This is difficult for the Briton who has his roots in English life and traditions."

FIVE-YEAR TERM

Some church circles, however, feel the term of Arctic service is too long. Volunteers are required to serve five years after which they are given a five-month furlough.

Other factors contribute to the church's problems. Since the pioneer missionary Bishop William Bompas became known as "The Apostle of the North," the bleak region had been served until 1940 almost entirely by clergy from the United Kingdom and the tradition remains strong.

MORE FAMILIAR

While the call of the Arctic has been magnetic for missionary-minded Britons it has been less attractive to Canadians more familiar with the rugged conditions of northern life.

Bishop Marsh's diocese takes in the eastern and western arctic regions, the Northwest Territories and a part of northern Quebec. Of its 23,000 inhabitants, 11,000 are Eskimos.

Manning 23 mission stations, two hospitals, a nursing station and two day schools is a big job.

SINGLE PARISH

Only self-supporting parish in the entire area is Yellowknife.

The bishop's staff comprises 17 clergymen, three laymen, 33 Eskimo and Indian catechists and several nurses. The clergy include two Canadians, two Eskimos and a Loucheux Indian.

English-born Bishop Marsh, who has spent 34 years among the Eskimos, went overseas seeking an additional nine men to help in serving the spiritual and social needs of 9,000 Anglican Eskimos. The nine will spend a year with an experienced priest in the North before going on their own.

GREAT CONCERN

"There are those on the executive council of the church's department of missions who are greatly concerned about the length of uninterrupted service required of priests in the North,"

Plan Ahead for Holiday

By LOUISE MOORE

Christmas — the season for old-time hospitality — is sneaking up on us — the time for family gatherings, yuletide parties and other get-togethers — the time for the house to be decked with holly and sweet-scented pine with the yule log blazing merrily in the fireplace — if you have one.

A little organizing is necessary if things are to run smoothly all through the festive season. Christmas dinner all too often means hours upon hours of work for the homemaker.

Plan menus for the festive season with an eye to economy, convenience and good nutrition unless you don't mind going all out with the family budget.

TREE TRIMMING SUPPERS

Oyster stew with paprika garnish, toasted crackers, relish tray, jellied fruit salads, hot orange marmalade, biscuits, coffee — nuts.

Chicken curry in rice ring, jellied cranberry salad, hot rolls, ice box cake.

MIDNIGHT SUPPER

Chicken turnovers with mushroom sauce, hot sausage rolls, endive and grapefruit

WATCHNIGHT SUPPER

Tray of assorted canapés and tiny lobster and shrimp rolls, olives, sweet gherkins, celery and carrot sticks, ice cream and Christmas cake, coffee and punch.

GOING STAG

Spiced beef, rye bread and butter (men to make their own sandwiches). (Tray of mustard, pickles, olives, horseradish salad dressings). Dunks for raw vegetables, mince meat turnovers, cheeses — coffee.

CHRISTMAS DINNER

Cranberry cocktail, roast turkey — bread sauce, giblet gravy, whipped potatoes, sweet potato puff with pecans, green beans with mushrooms, red currant jelly, pickled walnuts, celery hearts, olives plum pudding, hard sauce. Salted nuts — raisins — coffee liqueur — living room.

CHRISTMAS BRUNCH

A brunch comes in between breakfast and lunch and eases the work on Christmas Day. Few dishes are served but they must be good.

Sherried grapefruit or jug of fruit juice, broiled sausages, kidney sauté, scrambled eggs, hot buttered toast, Christmas breads, grapefruit marmalade, coffee.

NEW YEAR'S BUFFET

Cranberry glazed canned ham, turkey Tetrazzini, (using leftover turkey), scalloped potatoes, (packaged mix), frozen asparagus spears, cabbage — peanut mayonnaise slaw, iced relishes, (ripe and green olives — watermelon pickle — baby gherkins — watercress sprigs — celery and carrot curls). Strawberry ice cream topped with angel flake coconut, mince tarts with hard sauce or cheese tray and fruit. Coffee.

CANNED HAM

A canned ham is a thing of beauty on the buffet table and the easiest of meats to prepare. A few twists of the wrist and you have ham ready to slice into neat big slices or to heat and glaze in a 325 F. oven.

For the cranberry glaze remove fat from canned ham with sharp knife; place ham flat side up on rack in shallow baking pan. Place 1 can — about 1 lb. — cranberry sauce in saucepan and break up with a fork. Blend in ¼ cup honey and ½ tsp. cloves.

When well blended brush ham with cranberry glaze and bake in slow oven (325) basting often. A 5 to 8 lb. canned ham takes 15 minutes per pound in a 325 oven to heat and glaze, a 3 to 4 pounder 25 minutes per pound in a 325 F. oven.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Eves, soloists with the Victoria Symphony Orchestra on November 28, will be honored at a reception at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel, given by the Women's Committee following the concert. Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: You've never had THIS problem before — so sharpen your wits and girl yourself for a toughie.

I was dialing my friend and got a wrong number. The voice on the other end was charming, cultured and interesting. I couldn't bring myself to hang up. Neither could he. We chatted for about 20 minutes and he asked for my number. I refused to give it, but promised to call him again "some time." I called him the following night, and twice since.

I confess I'm infatuated with this person although it sounds insane. He says he's 25, unmarried, college educated, gainfully employed and we are of the same faith. I'm 21, two-year college girl, living at home and bored with the local coffee-house drips. What shall I do? — WRONG (?) NUMBER.

Dear Wrong (?) Number: If you two are of the same faith, an ideal place to meet is in church. Suggest that he bring a friend or a relative along, and you do the same. If he agrees it's worth the shot; if he refuses, he's a wrong number and should be promptly disconnected.

Dear Ann Landers: My mother-in-law buys something for my husband Oswald every time she goes downtown. It wouldn't be such a problem if she paid for these items herself, but she charges everything to us. He has dozens of pairs of socks that he hasn't worn, boxes of shorts and undershirts, and handkerchiefs still in the original boxes. We have a tough time making ends meet and I break my neck to stay within a budget. Last month I paid out $27 on unnecessary haberdashery. When I suggested to Oswald that he ask his mother to stop this business she said "She's my mother and I can't insult her."

Why does she do these things and is there a way I can put an end to it without setting off a war? — OVER-STOCKED.

Dear Overstocked: Mama "does these things" because she fancies Junior her little boy, and takes delight in pretending that he still depends on her. Since you can get no cooperation from Oswald, simply tell Mom that your bills are getting out of hand — no fault of hers, of course, you just can't resist buying — so you're closing all charge accounts. Then close 'em.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a fellow 17 and this letter about girls phoning guys just to yak, hit pretty close to home. Here's how it looks to the guys who get called.

About four or five nights a week I get called by one or two girls. Sometimes three. It's not flattering, it's embarrassing. My folks give me a knowing look and I get shook and hate to go to the phone. The girls who call are usually silly and sometimes I can hear their folks yelling for them to get off. The same girls phone a certain clique of guys and the fellows talk about it. They are considered sort of cheap.

There are only one or two girls I really enjoy talking to. They never call me. I call them. — A WORD TO THE WISE.

Dear Wise: Thanks for The Word. I hope it comes through loud and clear.

Does almost everyone have a good time but you? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How to Be Well Liked," enclosing with your request 20¢ in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Garden Notes

Getting Down to Cases

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

For the past week or more, I have been yakking away about fruit trees — why you should plant them, when to plant, where to plant and what kinds to plant. It is about time now to get down to cases and start bunging the little trees into the ground.

It is always a good idea, while awaiting delivery of your fruit trees from your nurseryman, to get a good quantity of topsoil under cover. The idea is to get it dried off a bit, so that it can be worked under and around the tree roots when planting — something you can't do with wet clods of soil. I like to store my pile of fill-in soil on the concrete floor of our garage, as it is easy to turn it and mix it with peat moss, using a coal shovel, when it is on a firm, smooth base.

I add one bucketful of peat moss to every four of soil and, if the soil is very wet, the peat goes in dry, as it sops up excess moisture and helps bring the mixture into a workable texture. Then, for every bucket of peat, I mix in two cupfuls of some mild, long-lasting fertilizer such as Vigoro Rose Food plus two cupfuls of pulverized limestone.

Ideally, the planting pits should be prepared well in advance of the actual planting. By digging the holes at least a week ahead, the soil has a chance to become weathered and aerated, which is all to the good. By preparing the holes in advance, you can watch them and see if they tend to fill up with water. Such a tendency should rule out that particular site, for none of our fruit trees can tolerate permanently wet feet.

Planting pits must be big enough across to take all the roots spread out nearly horizontally, without any bending or cramping or doubling back. Mind you, a pit doesn't have to be overly deep—only about nine inches at its deepest point—but it must be wide enough.

This point was brought home to me very forcibly on one occasion. A plum tree which had been planted too hastily was putting on a poor performance, with weak, spindly growth and anaemic foliage. After trying every treatment in the book, I dug it up to have a look at the roots. Every root which had been doubled back on itself, to make the root system fit into a too-small hole, had rotted away and no extension growth at all had been made.

With a planting pit dug, take some of the soil and make a little mound in the centre. Sit your fruit tree on this mound so that the spread-out roots will slope gently outward and downward from the centre.

Incidentally, it is a good idea to beat this mound with the back of your spade, making it hard and firm.

This serves two purposes: It channels moisture away from the centre of the roots and out to the tips, where the active feeding root hairs will be formed, and it prevents the newly-planted tree from settling to a too-great depth.

Before you do any filling in, check the depth and see how deep your tree will be after planting is completed. Your reference point is a swollen spot on the main stem—the place where your tree was grafted. Lay a yardstick across the hole and measure to this graft union—it should be at least two inches above the soil level when the planting is completed. If there is a soil mark on the stem, use this to guide you in your depth of planting, but remember that under no circumstances may the graft union be buried.

With the tree sitting up on its mound of beaten soil and the roots spread out and sloping slightly downward, you can start filling in, using the soil-peat-fertilizer mixture. Jiggle the tree up and down a little as planting proceeds, to work the dryish soil around and under the roots. When the hole is two-thirds filled, pour a little water in, finishing with loose, dry soil on top.

Finally, stake and tie your little tree very firmly to prevent wind-rocking, but make sure the tie will not chafe the bark nor hinder the expansion of the trunk.

Hollywood Today

Not Shopping for Trouble

HOLLYWOOD (NANA) — Discount the rumors of new trouble in the Dick Powell-June Allyson marriage. Happens every time she goes alone to New York on a shopping spree. Dick is usually too busy to go with June.

The life story of French chanteuse Edith Piaf will be a movie, if director Daniel Petrie can get the rights. He's after TV's "Angel," Anne Fegge, to portray Piaf.

Gig Young, who snared good comment in "Under the Yum Yum Tree" on Broadway, can have a starring role for Jerry Wald at 20th-Fox in "High Heels," when he becomes available.

Those Lana Turner-Efrem Zimbalist romance rumors are to promote their movie, "By Love Possessed." But they aren't.

Brunette British actress Joan Collins and rising star Warren Beatty, brother of Shirley MacLaine, should be tying the knot any minute now.

With Robert Horton's "Wagon Train" schedule up in the air because of Ward Bond's death, he may be able to cut loose to accept Jean Dailymple's offer to star at New York's City Centre in her revival of "Showboat."

Deborah Kerr has marked 1961 as the year in which she will return to the stage. It's been a long time since Debbie scored on Broadway in "Tea and Sympathy."

When Judy Garland's life story comes to the screen, the teen-age Judy will be played by her talented daughter, 14-year-old Liza.

Joel McCrea has taught his sons the value of owning a piece of land. Joel sold half of his ranch last year for more than $1,000,000. Cost him around $50,000 in 1938. Son Jody, starring in "Wichita Town" on television, recently bought a 600-acre ranch in Santa Ynez. "I'll raise quarter horses and rent them to TV westerns," said the practical boy.

Simone Signoret goes to darkest Africa next summer to play the mother of young Hayley Mills in "The Lion," with Stewart Granger as the father. I wonder what became of Simone's plan to make one picture every two years, in order to remain with husband Yves Montand.

"If I owned 'Lolita,'" said Joe Pasternak, "there's only one girl who would play the nymphet—Yvette Mimieux." She stars for Joe in "Where the Boys Are."

When Jeff Chandler gets angry, he bangs his fist against a wall. Not too long ago, Jeff broke his hand doing this. Wouldn't it be safer to punch the person?

Elizabeth Taylor had her pet cats with her in London, also her dogs—all in that expensive suite at the Dorchester. You can bet that if any more of her teeth are extracted, the fact will not be publicized. Elizabeth gives one of the best performances of her career, not so by the way, in "Butterfield 8," which she fought hard against doing. Her acting in this could very well win her an Oscar.

Swings Survive

Safe for Gorillas Safe for Children

NEW YORK (AP) — It's no monkey business about the new swings for city parks. They're gorilla-tested and safe for kiddies.

The park department view is that if two burly, 350-pound girl gorillas can't break up a swing, then neither can the youngsters.

The story came to light in a place on Central Park in the December issue of the National Geographic Magazine. John Galm, Central Park zoo director, is quoted as saying the park department found that playground swings fell apart after a few months of use.

"We developed a new swing," Galm relates, "made of reinforced steel. We hung two of them in the cage with Carolyn and Jo-Ann. The theory was that if a couple of 350-pound apes could not break up the swings, neither could children."

The gorillas fell to their test-piloting with gusto.

"They banged the swings against the brick walls," says Galm. "They tried to chew them to pieces. They twisted them on their chains... so tight that the eyebolts pulled out of the seats. We installed stronger fittings."

"Finally the girls gave up. They couldn't do any more damage."

As a reward, the two apes were allowed to keep a swing in their cage for their very own.

They're as happy about it as a couple of kids.

Loch Ness Appeal

'Bombing Monster Out of the Question'

INVERNESS (AP) — A police chief whose beat is the Scottish highlands called Friday for a special act of Parliament to protect the Loch Ness monster against human villainy.

"At the moment we don't know whether the monster can be properly helped under the law," said J. R. Johnstone, chief constable of the county of Inverness.

"Everybody accepts that something strange lives in the loch, but nobody knows whether it's an animal or a fish or something outside our experience."

Johnstone said that without new legislation his men might not be able to stop adventurers trying to kill or catch the creature in dangerous experiments.

There have been reports that a band of young men from England intends to drop homemade depth charges into the loch with the aim of forcing the monster to the surface where it can be captured.

"Any such nonsense will be stopped before it ever begins," Johnstone said.

"I would welcome real scientific investigations but bombing the monster is out of the question."

This has been a poor year for the brute. Only about a dozen sightings have been recorded in the 24-mile stretch of water which goes down to 900 feet in parts.

Most descriptions roughly coincide on the essentials:

The monster is about 300 feet long with three or more humps on its scaly back, has a lashing tail and a little flat head with bulging eyes. It is capable of great speed through the water.

Code of Ethics

Labor Checks Open Quarrels

OTTAWA (CP)—A formal code of ethics aimed at preventing public squabbling within Canada's labor movement has been approved by the Canadian Labor Congress.

The code, now being printed for distribution among unions across the country, would ban public attacks or criticisms by any CLC union against the structure, character, practices or motives of another union.

BAD PUBLICITY
"Public attacks by one affiliate upon another result in adverse publicity which causes grave injury to organized labor," the preamble of the code says. It will apply to unions representing more than 1,000,000 workers in Canada.

CLC officials indicate the new code would have applied to a recent public criticism of international unionism by a top officer of Canada's biggest national union, the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers (CLC).

However, the code does not provide for any formal sanctions or extreme disciplinary measures against a CLC affiliate that violates its provisions.

The code itself points up one outcome of unfavorable publicity after inter-union membership scraps and organizational boycotts—it gives rise to regulatory legislation against unions.

NO PROPAGANDA
The key section bans CLC affiliates from directly or indirectly issuing propaganda that:

1. Implies any other affiliate is guilty of undemocratic practices, corruption or any other improper conduct.

2. Attacks the principles of international, national, provincial or regional unionism.

3. Attacks the craft or industrial structure of other unions.

4. Criticizes the benefits received from or the dues and initiation fees paid to another affiliate.

'Holdup' Yell Halts Holdup
VANCOUVER (CP)—A woman bank teller prevented a bank holdup in downtown Vancouver Friday afternoon.

When a man threatened her with a gun, she yelled "Hold-up." The man ran from the bank and a suspect was captured a block away.

DEPARTMENT OF FISHERIES
Sealed tenders addressed to W. R. Houston, Area Director of Fisheries, 110 West Georgia Street, Vancouver, B.C., will be received up until 12 noon, Wednesday, December 1, 1960, for the supply of a main diesel marine engine for the 80-foot Fisheries Protection Vessel "Kilomat." Specifications and details on vessel's inspection may be obtained from the Department at Vancouver, B.C. The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

G. R. CLARK,
Deputy Minister of Fisheries.

THE CORPORATION OF THE DISTRICT OF OAK BAY
Tenders will be received by the Fire Chief, Fire Hall 1703 Monterey Avenue, Oak Bay, B.C., up until noon, 30th November, 1960, for:
One 1960 or 1961 four-door station wagon.
A 1960 two-door "Dodge" sedan to be traded in.

Further particulars may be obtained from the Chief of the Fire Department.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

T. W. PEARSON,
Fire Chief.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS
All creditors and persons having claims against the estate of Robert Wallace, deceased, formerly of the City of Victoria, British Columbia, are hereby required to send full particulars of such claims to Gerald Arnold Lauder care of the undersigned Solicitors at 202 Seafair Building, 1207 Douglas Street, Victoria, B.C., on or before Wednesday, the 30th day of November, 1960, after which date the estate's assets will be distributed having regard only to claims that have been received.

Dated this 16th day of November, 1960.

Spaniel Raises Litter After Litter—Of Kittens!

If anyone would like to adopt a black or ginger kitten, they may call at 5055 Santa Clara Avenue and apply to Scamp.

Scamp is the kittens' "mother," and what's more, she is a golden spaniel-terrier cross: a dog.

Three-year-old Scamp, owned by Mrs. H. J. Reed, has never had a family of her own but has a mother-instinct that compels her to adopt kittens—any kittens. She has raised several litters, taking over full maternal responsibilities including feeding.

While this is unusual, city veterinarians say, it is not unique. Most of Scamp's "children" are the offspring of her feline playmate Blackie, who seems content to let the dog take over.

Annual meeting of the Oak Bay Progressive Conservative Association will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Oak Bay municipal hall.

Mrs. R. J. Turnbull, 1756 Coronation, says her son Stuart found his running shoes burned, his gym shorts ripped and four strange pairs of shorts stuffed into the locker at Central Junior High School.

Provincial and civic officials will attend a luncheon meeting of the B.C. Maritime Museum board of directors Wednesday in HMCS Naden wardroom.

Luncheon will follow a general meeting when Lt.-Cmdr. Ernie Cassels, curator, will report on recent attendance, acquisitions and future plans.

Roy Stevens was installed as master councillor at a recent meeting of the Victoria Chapter of the Order of De Molay.

Other officers elected were Don Dakers, senior councillor; Tom Birkenhead, junior councillor; Pat Brabazon, treasurer; Bob Duke and Ken Thomas, scribes. Pat Burgess was installed as chapter sweetheart, Frank Taylor as chapter dad and Len Maycock chairman of the advisory council.

Eliminations will be held in May to give Vancouver Island model airplane enthusiasts a chance to place on Canada's team for competitions in Russia, it was decided at the recent annual meeting of the Pacific Zone of the Model Aeronautics of Canada.

Workshop demonstration on film splicing will highlight a meeting of the Victoria Amateur Movie Club at 8 p.m. Monday at Norway House, 1110 Hillside.

Girls Beat the Boys But 500 Fund Won

Halls at Mount Douglas High School were lined with money, yesterday as boys and girls competed in a penny, nickel, dime and quarter drive for The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund.

The final count last night

showed the girls beat the boys in the close race but the big winner was the Colonist 500 Fund, which received the $29 total which the contest produced.

To decide which side had won, vice-principal James

Muir laid out two long pieces of sticky tape in the school's main hall.

Coins collected were glued to the tapes and the coins on the girls' tape stretched a greater distance down the floor.

Maureen Reid. She enlisted the help of Sigma Tau Hi-Y president Win Tomlin. Both clubs agreed on a friendly competition between boys and girls.

no way to show how the competition was going.

The thoughtful young students helped the 500 Fund along another step towards providing a little something extra at Christmas time for the Victoria area's 500 neediest families.

Donations should be addressed to The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund and mailed or left at 2631 Douglas Street or the downtown office at 1215 Broad Street.

PEACE IN SIGHT IN GRAIN STRIKE

Getaway Car Just Couldn't

VANCOUVER (CP)—Wayne Perry Dodds, 18, and Louis George Glendale, 18, who escaped Wednesday from Oakalla, cautiously pushed a "borrowed" car down a nearby hill to try to start it.

They really didn't have a hope—the engine had been dismantled for repairs. Police arrived while they were still trying.

John D Joins Strike Talks

Embargo Monday

MONTREAL (UPI)—An embargo on all shipments of livestock, poultry and other perishable freight on Canada's major railways has been issued to take effect at 12.01 a.m. (local time) Monday.

New Zealand Voting Today

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP)—The only Labor government in the Commonwealth faces a severe test in New Zealand's general election today.

In office for three years, Labor went to the country holding 41 of the 80 seats in the House of Representatives to the opposition National Party's 39.

Handlers and Companies Accept Mediator's Terms

VANCOUVER (CP)—Federal Mediator F. Craig Munroe announced yesterday that company and union negotiators have accepted his recommendations for settlement of the grain handlers' strike.

He said in a statement that the grain handlers union will recommend acceptance at a union meeting Sunday. The company negotiators would meet their principals during the weekend.

Mr. Munroe said he congratulates both parties "for their good sense in settling" the strike at this time.

In a report released Friday he recommended a total wage increase of 23% cents an hour in a two-year agreement. The agreement would provide for separate increases of 13% cents and eight cents and a two-cent increase in the 11-cent cost-of-living bonus.

SOME RELIEF

In recommending the increases that would bring the base hourly rate of the 325 handlers to $2.36 in the second year of the contract, he suggested some relief to employers in the matter of reclassification of employees.

The strike has caused strong reaction in the grain belts and

Trio Nabbed $200,000 Ransom Paid

WASHINGTON (AP)—A rich California sportsman who was kidnapped in San Diego Wednesday night has been rescued after paying a $200,000 ransom, the FBI said Friday night.

The kidnap victim, Anthony Alessio, 41, whose family operates the Caliente race track in Tijuana, Mexico, was unharmed. Three suspects were arrested and a large part of the ransom money was recovered, the FBI said.

The FBI, which kept news of Alessio's kidnapping quiet until Friday night, said the ransom was paid in cash in a Hollywood parking lot. Alessio was found an hour and a half later in a San Diego motel, still handcuffed.

'Yard' to Help Montreal Police Shuffle

MONTREAL (CP)—Mayor Jean Drapeau announced Friday night he has arranged to have a Scotland Yard detective and a retired general-director of the Paris police come to Montreal to help reorganize the Montreal police force.

They will be expected to observe the workings of the Montreal police force, troubled this year by a crime wave.

No Direct Aid

U.K. to Help Ease Drain on U.S. Gold

LONDON (AP)—Britain promised support Friday for Washington's drive to persuade Atlantic alliance nations to shoulder more of the common defence load and ease the drain on U.S. gold.

This was announced by government officials as the U.S. economic mission of Treasury Secretary Robert Anderson and Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon ended a day of talks in London.

The mission did not ask for direct British financial aid in its talks with British treasury, foreign office and trade officials, the officials said.

Instead, it was agreed both countries would use their influence in the 15-nation alliance for action to relieve the U.S. foreign defence burden.

U.S. to Cut New Loans

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The United States said yesterday it does not intend to contribute in the near future to any new international agencies set up to dispense loans to under-developed nations.

U.S. representative Frederick Payne at the same time emphasized that U.S. contributions to existing agencies and aid programs would continue.

Army Report Warns

Reds Closing Economic Gap

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A report prepared for the army by a Johns Hopkins University group declared yesterday that Russia's rapid economic growth threatens to make the United States an inferior power within 10 years.

The report, covering an issue that figured prominently in the recent presidential election campaign, said the American people have a right to be "alarmed" about the relative status of their country and the Soviet Union.

But it also asserted that U.S. policy makers could reverse the present trend—and without huge new federal spending. It said "modest changes in U.S. growth policies could bring substantial progress toward matching U.S.S.R. cold war activity."

Stetsons Everywhere

Cigar Was Lit—So Was Blonde

By JIM PEACOCK

VANCOUVER (CP)—The natives could be excused if they thought it was a convention of cowboys, for the white hat that has become the symbol of Calgary was everywhere.

But in fact it was the lid-blowing for celebrations preceding today's Grey Cup football championship game between Edmonton Eskimos and Ottawa Rough Riders, kickoff scheduled at 2.30 p.m. MST.

Pre-game celebrations started as early as Tuesday, but they were mild and subdued by Friday's standards.

Even Thursday night, in the heavy rains and the absence of the vanguard of Calgary fans who have been largely responsible for the festive atmosphere that surrounds this sports classic, this city was quiet.

Friday, however, that all changed. The weather improved—it was cool, mostly cloudy, but without rain—and six special trains, twice as many special flights and all the regular service poured fans into town by the thousands.

By noon Friday, when the 24-car white hot CPR special from Calgary arrived only slightly late, the noise of the hoopla could be heard for blocks.

Led from the train by a Cigar-smoking (yes, it too was lit) young blonde, wrapped in furs and topped with a 10-gallon white hat, the Calgary crowd immediately set out to turn the city upside down.

It did a commendable job, marching up Granville Street behind the smoking and bang-

ing fire rig used for such occasions by the Vancouver firemen's union, and taking full charge of the Vancouver Hotel, the city's largest and the centre of Grey Cup celebrations.

Not five minutes later, there was square dancing in the lobby.

A 19-car special from Winnipeg had arrived a few minutes earlier and many of the fans from it joined in. The party was started and as each hour passed, more people arrived to keep it rolling.

The horde from Edmonton were late, their four special CNR trains delayed several hours by a slide in interior B.C., but they added their voice to the whoopla by early evening.

Nobody expects the din to fade until the wee hours of Sunday, long after the last point has been scored at Empire Stadium.

It Was a Western Sweep In the Beauty Division

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mary Jo Powell, 19, a dark-haired beauty from Edmonton, Friday night was chosen Miss Grey Cup 1960.

The West made a sweep of the annual beauty contest which accompanies the East-

West football classic, with Miss Saskatchewan Roughrider, 20-year-old Lee Oakenfeld, named second and Miss Winnipeg Blue Bomber, Patricia Little, 17, in third place.

Miss Powell is a student at the University of Alberta. She is secretary of the student union and a member of the University symphony orchestra.

She is five feet eight inches tall, weighs 125 pounds, has green eyes and vital statistics of 36-24-36.

A mercy flight by an RCAF aircraft from Vancouver was made last night for a five-week-old baby boy in remote Tofino on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

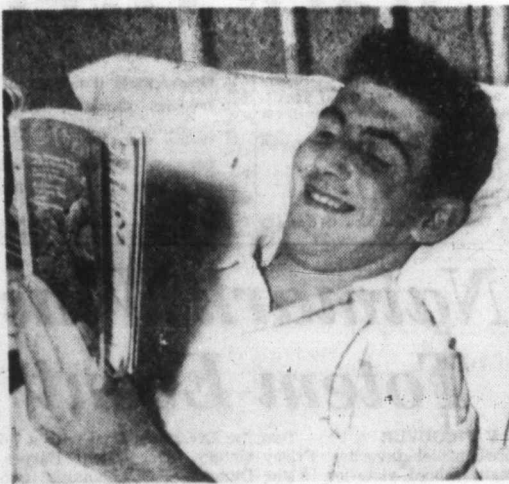

Details were not available at press time.

The RCAF Dakota, piloted by Flt. Lt. Ed Trewin, arrived back in Vancouver about midnight.

A hospital spokesman at Tofino said the baby was kept there for several hours prior to the flight, but declined to say the nature of its illness.

Firemen Narrowly Missed Death

'Every Muscle Aches'

Glad to Be Alive

Glad to be alive but still suffering shock after part of a 7,300-volt surge of electricity coursed through his body is volunteer fireman Robert Lewis. Another fireman, Alan Campbell, died Wednesday night after he and Lewis touched a power line with an aluminum ladder while fighting a chimney fire. (Colonist photo by Charles Thompson.)

DUNCAN—Volunteer fireman Robert Lewis is still in hospital confined to bed. Every muscle aches, he said yesterday.

Five minutes before he was almost electrocuted Wednesday night he was studying coverage for firemen under the city's agreement with the Workmen's Compensation Board.

"As soon as I get out of here I'm really going to go into it," he said. "When you think of what happened to Al, you realize that it isn't good enough."

Alan Campbell, 23, an assistant bank accountant, died after an aluminum ladder came in contact with a 7,300-volt power line. He is to be buried today at Vancouver.

"I don't know why it wasn't me. I started to climb up it (the ladder) when the jolt came down," he said. "God was sure with me."

"About all I can remember is seeing Al's face and I knew he was dead."

you think about it," Lewis said. "Al wasn't under the Workmen's Compensation Act at his job, but they pay death benefits."

NOT COVERED

"I'm not covered under the Act either, because I'm a salesman without a fixed salary."

Lewis said he is covered for doctor bills but if he cannot work for any length of time the city's agreement would bring in less than $100 a month.

He said that more than 12 volunteers in Cowichan departments are in the same position. Lewis hopes to be out of hospital this weekend.

Fined $75

Disqualified Driver Caught Fourth Time

PORT ALBERNI—A young Alberni man was fined $75 in Port Alberni court yesterday on his fourth conviction for driving while disqualified after his lawyer appealed for leniency on compassionate grounds.

Gerald Joseph Lejeunesse entered court on crutches. Lawyer R. J. Ohs said that Lejeunesse was suffering from a severely injured foot, the result of a logging accident, and it was not expected that the final cast would be removed before July.

He told the court that circumstances had left the accused without a driver after his brother had left his car to take him home from a house where he was visiting a girl friend on the previous evening. Backing out of the driveway without lights on the car, he had been seen by RCMP on patrol and a chase ensued. Mr. Ohs said his client had panicked on seeing the patrol car and had attempted to elude police who finally caught him in a dead-end street, and arrested him.

As a result of the chase, Lejeunesse faced a second charge of careless driving.

Guilty pleas were entered for the accused on both counts.

Setting fines of $75 and $25 on the two charges, Magistrate W. E. MacLeod warned the accused that he could not expect such leniency if he appeared in court again.

War Measures Urged By CCF Candidate

DUNCAN—Former MP Colin Cameron threw his hat into the political ring again last night and treated an audience to a lively speech that advocated a "planned economy" to ease unemployment.

He told a nominating meeting that unanimously elected him CCF standard-bearer for Nanaimo and the Islands in the next federal election that measures taken during the war to pull Canada out of the depression appeared to be the answer to him.

"If we can produce guns and ammunitions that are blown to hell, there is no reason why we can't produce other things for starving nations," he told a CCF meeting.

Mr. Cameron was defeated at the last federal election by Conservative W. F. Matthews after being this riding's favorite at the three previous.

Mr. Cameron made his comeback on the provincial scene when he almost beat Socred Earle Westwood, minister of recreation and conservation.

Among the measures that could be implemented, he said, include the forced investment of public funds, and the curbing of production so it could be directed by the government.

Instead of worrying so much about stimulating the export trade, Canada should "produce instead goods needed to provide a good life for the people of Asia."

Car Did 90 Say Police

ALBERNI—Victor A. Savard admitted speeds up to 75 or 80 miles an hour and RCMP reported clocking his car at a top speed of 90 miles an hour, according to information given in Alberni court.

Pleading guilty to a charge of speeding, the young man was fined $50 by Magistrate W. E. MacLeod.

Cobble Hill Man, Son Win $30,000 Award

DUNCAN—Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane in Supreme Court at Victoria yesterday awarded damages totalling a more than $30,000 to a Cobble Hill man and his son for injuries received in an accident two years ago.

The judgment awarded special damages of $4,279 for medical expenses and general damages of $26,000 for loss of wages and suffering to Orville Maxwell.

His son, Ted, was awarded $107 special damages for medical expenses and $750 general damages.

Maxwell was driving a small truck at the corner of Cherry Point and Cowichan Bay Roads when it was in collision with a car driven by Donald Doney of Koksilah on Oct. 9, 1958.

The awards against Doney were covered by insurance. The Maxwells were represented at the two-day session by lawyer Jack Davie.

Job Picture 'Steady' In Nanaimo District

NANAIMO — The employment picture in the central part of Vancouver Island has remained fairly steady during the past month.

Jack Clark, manager of the Nanaimo National Employment Service, states in his monthly report that there has been an increase in the number of employment seekers. This has resulted to a considerable extent from people moving to the area and local residents returning to their homes from out of town construction projects and logging camps.

At the present time there are 832 men and 282 women registered.

Weather conditions have been favorable for the logging industry.

Sawmills in the area have continued work without shutdown, although one major mill is working on a four-day week because of lack of orders from the United States and Britain.

Opening of the herring season this month affected two boats from this area. The majority of seiners and gill-netters are tied up for the season while shrimp fishing and salmon trolling is being carried out in a small way.

Bastion Square Restoration Could Revitalize Waterfront, Survey Shows

Restoration of lower town Victoria around Bastion Square could lead to redevelopment of the entire harbor waterfront, a Chamber of Commerce spokesman said yesterday.

Dr. Hugh Borsman said the initial restoration of historic buildings could, as a long-term project, be expanded to include a pedestrian causeway spanning Wharf Street with multi-tier parking below restaurant and entertainment facilities overlooking the water.

He indicated both city planners and the Capital Improvement District Commission have ambitious plans for the area.

The courthouse, which is to be restored by the provincial government in 1962, will be focal point of the whole development scheme, said Dr. Borsman who heads a group of government officials and interested businessmen that is conducting a survey of the area. "I don't think there is any question that this will become the real nucleus of the city in time to come," he said.

The committee's first official act will be to assure the provincial government that there is lots of public interest in the proposal to restore the courthouse. Dr. Borsman said his group will urge the city and local businessmen to adopt as a centennial project the task of turning Bastion Square into a mall and restoring at least some of the historic buildings that surround it.

Infection Suspected

All Efforts Fail To Revive Child

City police and hospital staff tried in vain yesterday to revive a two-year-old boy who appeared to be suffering from suffocation.

found the child lying in his crib.

All the way to nearby St. Joseph's Hospital, Const. Kelly applied artificial respiration.

Hospital staff then attempted to revive the boy, to no avail.

Before the contract can be legally signed a special bylaw must be passed by the council, Reeve A. C. Wurtele said last night.

First readings were given to the bylaw at a special meeting of the council last night and final reading is expected to be given at another meeting Monday night.

The contract could be signed Tuesday morning, Reeve Wurtele said.

Scenes of Youth

Veteran Will See Antarctic With Older, Wiser Eyes

By R. O. MARRION

SIR CHARLES WRIGHT

... ice again

The scenes he will see he last saw nearly 48 years ago: the ice-covered terrain of Antarctica, even the hut where the British expedition under Capt. Robert Scott spent the winters of 1911 and 1912. Then he was a young scientist, investigating glaciology, meteorology, magnetism, gravity and aurora, and also the man who navigated the search party to Scott's last camp containing his detailed description of his trip to the south pole and his incomplete return journey.

THREE TIMES Now he's an older scientist, who three times has "retired" in Victoria, but at the Pacific Naval Laboratory yesterday he appeared to be youthfully itching to get back to Antarctica and a research project in low frequency electromagnetic waves.

Sir Charles will be one of a team leaving at the end of next week to take part in the project jointly sponsored by Defence Research Board and Stanford University in the Antarctic and the Arctic.

ON LOAN

He and D. J. Evans of the naval laboratory, a highly skilled electronics engineer, will go, on loan to Stanford, to Byrd Station in Antarctica. Arthur Shand and Chris Gibb will go for the naval laboratory to Great Whale River on the eastern shore of Hudson Bay, and Erwin Locken and David Hale to Fort Churchill.

A controlled experiment between Byrd Station and the Hudson Bay points is expected to provide valuable information about ionization at great heights, supplementing knowledge gained from satellite observations.

Divided Highway Unlikely

Highway department officials said yesterday there was little likelihood that the widening of the Patricia Bay Highway will be of a "divided highway concept."

Plans are now being prepared to widen the highway to four lanes, and the time when this will be done "probably isn't very far away," they said.

Not Even Whistle Stop When TCA Fare Rises

Victoria will not even be a whistle stop for TCA a few months after the national airline increases its Victoria-Vancouver fare from $5 to $7, according to G. F. Dunn, director of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and vice-president of the Canadian Chamber.

Mr. Dunn told directors of the Victoria chamber yesterday that TCA could not hope to maintain its proposed eight round trips a day schedule to Vancouver with Viscount planes after it raises its fares after Jan. 1. The differential between the air fare and the ferry fare was too great, he said.

He was supporting the protest made by Mayor Percy Scourrah against the fare boost.

The mayor said he was concerned about the increase because it was clearly a case of TCA pricing itself out of the market.

40 Per Cent Boost

"The city is being discriminated against with a 40 per cent increase," said the mayor. "TCA has actually reduced the fare for the 150-mile journey between Calgary and Edmonton, but it has increased the fare on the longer journey between Victoria and those cities. It is just too anomalous."

The mayor asked the chamber directors to support his protest to the Air Transport Board in which he asked for a public hearing. "We have nothing to lose but our own time," he said. "I want to see the airline continue its service to this city. It has served us well in the past."

Director Courtney Haddock suggested that with the government proposing to put on extra ferries, the sea route fare might even be lowered further. "Maybe TCA thinks it is fighting a losing battle anyway."

The suggestion was made by Director Logan Mayhew that TCA could cut costs on its service—said to be losing about $1,000,000 a year—by cutting out reservations and taking passengers on a first-come, first-served basis.

The mayor said it cost TCA as much to book a passenger to Vancouver as it did to Montreal.

Losing Operation

Director Eric Mallet thought it might be unwise for the chamber to ask TCA to continue a losing operation. "Maybe we should do everything we can to promote a helicopter service from downtown to downtown."

Mayor Scourrah disagreed. "The cost of operating helicopters at present is so fantastically high that a service could not be inaugurated without a heavy subsidy," he said.

"It may be many years before a suitable economic helicopter service is possible."

The mayor added that even the increase in TCA fare to $7 would not take the airline out of the red. "They would need to do it, I am dismayed and would be ridiculous. We are entitled to a service at reasonable cost."

The chamber agreed to associate itself wholeheartedly with the city in its protest.

Absenteeism Plans Hit by Candidate

Aldermanic candidate Victor Williams yesterday attacked Ald. Arthur Dowell being persuaded by friends and fellow aldermen to stand for re-election although he will be away on a European tour for several months next year.

"I suggest that there's no other place in the city where other members would do a man's work and he still would be paid his wages," Mr. Williams said. "I don't think the city would allow its employees to do it. I am dismayed and somewhat ashamed that we have elected council members putting such irresponsible pressure on Ald. Dowell to keep the status very much quoed."

You'll Never Make The Scene The Blue Note's Been Sounded

Capital Notebook By Peter Bruton

FAREWELL SCENE: Victoria's jazz hangout "the scene" is closing its doors for the final time a week today.

For the past 2 1/2 years jazz and pizza pie have been dispensed in the dimly-lit building on Wharf Street. It was essentially a bring-your-own-bottle - and - keep - it - under-the-table deal, but devotees loved it.

"The scene" also happened to be the city's only night spot of any account, barring Chinatown, that is, and it will be difficult for the regulars to know what to do on Friday and Saturday nights in future.

Perhaps they will have to go home, now the blue note has been sounded.

Secretary Wally Lightbody and president Ken Hole say the lease has run out and it won't be renewed. They haven't got the time to run it any more.

If someone else wants to take it over, they're willing to listen to offers. But the present plan is to close it down on Saturday and move its furnishings (?) to Vancouver.

Yesir, looks as if "the scene" is really gone.

SIGN OF THE TIMES: Perhaps Grey Cup fever isn't quite the same as it used to be or maybe the wrong people won that Ogilvie Flour Mill contest entitling them to a three-day all-expenses-paid trip to Vancouver for the game.

All five winners, chosen from among thousands of entrants across Canada, elected to accept the alternate cash award instead.

MIRACULOUS RECOVERY: Hope this doesn't lead to a last-minute switch in the odds favoring Edmonton Eskimos today, but...

A few hours after halfback Rolfe Miles was photographed lying in bed supposedly suffering from a strep throat, he accompanied fullback Johnny Bright to a city cocktail bar.

To those anxious fans who approached his table and asked how he felt, he replied: "Man, that's all newspaper talk." Perhaps he should have said it was all coach Eagle Keys

Some Stores to String Own Christmas Lights

Merchants on Government Street are to put up their own Christmas lights between Yates and Humboldt Street, it was announced yesterday by Robert Thompson, chairman of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce retail merchants group.

Instead of Ferry

Bridges, Tunnel Urged as Link

The provincial government should start construction of a tunnel and bridge project to link southern Vancouver Island with the mainland, rather than build a third ferry, Saanich councillor Ainslie Worthington said last night.

"Money spent on ferries is just going to be wasted," he said, proposing an undersea tunnel from near Point Roberts near Tsawwassen to the Gulf Islands, bridges linking the islands and another tunnel to Vancouver Island.

Coun. Worthington said he will seek an interview with provincial government officials to promote the scheme.

"San Francisco and Oakland were the same," he said. "They had ferries there for years and years, but someone had the foresight to build the bridge."

San Francisco and Oakland are on opposite sides of San Francisco Bay. They are linked by a double-deck bridge which traverses 8 1/4 miles of water.

"People think nothing of driving an hour to get to work," Coun. Worthington added, "and Vancouver workers could live on the island."

Construction of the proposed new ferry would cost some $3,000,000, he said. Growth of the lower Vancouver Island area will soon make a fourth ferry necessary, he said, and the money could better be spent on a tunnel-bridge system.

"Think of the work such a project would create for British Columbia men and women. It would be a boost to all our industries, and the work could continue all year round."

Coun. Worthington is running again in the municipal election to be held in Saanich Dec. 8.

Candidates Now 10 In Saanich

Saanich council should consider the appointment of a full-time industrial commissioner for actively attracting industries to the municipality, Frank G. Beamish, 88 Sims Avenue, said last night.

At the same time, Mr. Beamish, who is a salesman, announced he will seek election to the council in the Dec. 8 election. He is the 10th person to announce his intention to run.

Other persons who have announced they will contest the election are Lionel Speller, Stanley Eden, Robert Chard, Joseph Casey, incumbent Coun. Ainslie Worthington and Coun. Harold Todd, Cunningham McMillan, Mrs. Mira Yarrowood and Mrs. Beatrice Mundell.

Nominations close at the municipal hall at noon Monday.

Nanaimo Harbor Master Takes Over in December

NANAIMO — A Nanaimo resident for the past eight years has been named harbor master under the new Nanaimo Harbor Commission.

John Dunham, manager of Black Ball Ferries, operation here, has resigned that position in order to take over the new job which will begin next month.

Mr. Dunham was chosen by the three harbor commissioners, George Muir, Max Blunt and John Thompson.

The new harbor master was born and educated in England. He served throughout the Second World War with the Royal Navy, signing up for the merchant navy following the war and came to Nanaimo as Black Ball manager in 1953.

He will take over his post as soon as the new Harbor Act is proclaimed, probably early in December.

ALBERNI — Council has accepted a lands and parks committee report which will permit exchange of city property for lots owned by the Netherlands Reformed Church.

Residents in the vicinity of the church property on Cherry Creek Road had petitioned against construction of a church in the location on grounds that traffic and parking problems would develop.

DUNCAN — Teachers and school board have appointed arbitrators to settle the 1961 pay contract for school district 65 (Cowichan).

They are Joe Miyazawa, Vancouver, for the teachers, and W. R. McIntyre, a Victoria lawyer, for the board. They are the same men who represented the groups last year.

The men have until the end of this month to appoint a third member to the arbitration board. An agreement on a new teachers' contract has to be reached before the end of the year.

DUNCAN — About $100 damage was done to a car driven by Peter Tater, Trunk Road, about 8 a.m. today—the only accident reported to police and believed to be caused by overnight freezing.

Police said he was crossing a bridge on Cowichan Lake Road four miles west of here. The car struck a guard rail and then went into the right-hand ditch.

DUNCAN — Unemployed welder Erkki Moilanen, of Victoria, was fined $20 yesterday when he pleaded guilty in police court here to a charge of careless driving.

PARKSVILLE — Arthur H. Butler has been named president of the newly-formed Sports and Social Club which was organized at a recent meeting.

Other officers elected were: Robert Doughty, vice-president; James Cuthbert, financial secretary and William Filmer, recording secretary.

A finance committee was appointed and it was decided to start a membership drive in the immediate future.

A suggestion that the group amalgamate in part with the Parksville Recreation Commission was studied. Such a merger would eliminate duplication of activities and also would assist the sports and social club with grants for certain projects.

PORT ALBERNI — Funeral services will be held in St. Alban's Church Monday at 2 p.m. for Mrs. Marguerite Millan Hill, who died Thursday in West Coast General Hospital.

Mrs. Hill had lived in this city for the past 24 years. She was born in Nordegg, Alta.

She leaves her husband Gordon, and a daughter, Carolyn June, at home; her mother, Mrs. A. Whyte, Port Alberni; two sisters, Mrs. Lillian Hooper, Alberni, and Mrs. Delwin Fless, Sayward.

DUNCAN — Preliminary hearing into charges of possession of stolen goods against Gerald D. Connelly has been remanded to Nov. 30 for trial.

Bail was extended. Connelly is charged with possession of a shotgun, two rifles and a portable typewriter Nov. 8.

Girls Beat the Boys But 500 Fund Won

Halls at Mount Douglas High School were lined with money yesterday as boys and girls competed in a penny, nickel, dime and quarter drive for The Daily Colonist 500 Christmas Fund.

The final count last night

showed the girls beat the boys in the close race but the big winner was the Colonist 500 Fund, which received the $29 total which the contest produced.

To decide which side had won, vice-principal James Muir laid out two long pieces of sticky tape in the school's main hall.

Coins collected were glued to the tapes and the coins on the girls' tape stretched a greater distance down the floor.

help of Sigma Tau H-Y president Win Tomlin. Both clubs

agreed on a friendly competition between boys and girls.

Students started the drive Tuesday by placing collection tins around the school, but they soon discovered there was no way to show how the competition was going. The

Trio Nabbed $200,000 Ransom Paid

WASHINGTON (AP)—A rich California sportsman who was kidnapped in San Diego Wednesday night has been rescued after paying a $200,000 ransom, the FBI said Friday night.

The kidnap victim, Anthony Alessio, 41, whose family operates the Caliente race track in Tijuana, Mexico, was unharmed. Three suspects were arrested and a large part of the ransom money was recovered, the FBI said.

The FBI, which kept news of Alessio's kidnapping quiet until Friday night, said the ransom was paid in cash in a Hollywood parking lot. Alessio was found an hour and a half later in a San Diego motel, still handcuffed.

The FBI report said Alessio was seized by two armed men as he arrived home late Tuesday from Caliente. They handcuffed and blindfolded him and took him in his own car to an abandoned San Diego house.

Within minutes of the kidnapping, Alessio's wife Virginia received a telephone call in which $650,000 ransom was demanded.

Monterey Park, Calif.; his wife, Ruby Elaine, 30, and Selma Clark Marrohe, 25, of Los Angeles.

Getaway Car Just Couldn't

VANCOUVER (CP)—Wayne Perry Dodds, 18, and Louis George Glendale, 18, who escaped Wednesday from Oakalla, cautiously pushed a "borrowed" car down a nearby hill to try to start it.

They really didn't have a hope—the engine had been dismantled for repairs. Police arrived while they were still trying.

John D Joins Strike Talks

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker launches a personal bid today to avert the "catastrophic results" of a nation-wide railway strike.

He has summoned top railway and union leaders to Ottawa for an emergency round of talks aimed at settling the multi-million-dollar wage impasse before it reaches the Dec. 3 strike deadline.

UNIONS FIRST
Backed by Labor Minister Starr, Transport Minister Balcer and Postmaster-General Hamilton, he will confer first with union negotiators headed by Frank Hall of Montreal, then with railway presidents Donald Gordon of the CNR and N. R. Crump of the CPR.

Mr. Diefenbaker did not say what he may have in mind for the crucial talks.

SEVEN NOW
There are indications the government may propose a compromise involving a two-step pay increase with seven cents an hour now, possibly subsidized by the treasury.

The other seven cents of the conciliation board recommendation would be left to a government-appointed arbiter. Informants indicate such a part now, part-later plan would meet opposition from the union leaders.

NEW ZEALAND

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP)—The only Labor government in the Commonwealth faces a severe test in New Zealand's general election today.

In office for three years, Labor went to the country holding 41 of the 80 seats in the House of Representatives to the opposition National Party's 39.

Unions, Firms Accept Terms

VANCOUVER (CP)—Federal Mediator F. Craig Munroe announced yesterday that company and union negotiators have accepted his recommendations for settlement of the grain handlers' strike.

He said in a statement that the grain handlers union will recommend acceptance at a union meeting Sunday. The company negotiators would meet their principals during the weekend.

Mr. Munroe said he congratulates both parties "for their good sense in settling" the strike at this time.

In a report released Friday he recommended a total wage increase of 23½ cents an hour in a two-year agreement. The agreement would provide for separate increases of 13½ cents and eight cents and a two-cent increase in the 11-cent cost-of-living bonus.

In recommending the increases that would bring the base hourly rate of the 325 handlers to $2.36 in the second year of the contract, he suggested some relief to employers in the matter of reclassification of employees.

The strike has caused strong reaction in the grain belts and a severe tie-up of shipping in Vancouver harbor.

Ed Sims, grain handlers spokesman, has said the wage issue was not the main point in the dispute.

To that Mr. Munroe said the position of the two parties on the question of changes of employment and reclassification remained inflexible.

Mr. Munroe recommended that the two-year agreement be dated from the resumption of work.

Copter Saves City Flier

A Victoria businessman was one of three men rescued after their small plane crashed on a Fraser River sandbar yesterday afternoon.

Frederick Proctor, 48, of 2663 Musgrave, a partner in Wilson and Proctor Ltd., a machine shop at 1125 Wharf, suffered internal injuries.

He was taken to Vancouver General Hospital along with pilot Fraser Jansen of Vancouver, who suffered head injuries, and William Whiles of Burnaby, who suffered chest and abdominal injuries.

Mr. Proctor, a veteran pilot who owns his own plane, was on a business trip. He was picked up about noon at Patricia Bay Airport by the other two men in a Cessna 172 owned by West Coast Air Services of Vancouver.

The small plane crashed on a sandbar near Steveston at 4:30 p.m.

One man was taken from the sandbar by a fishing boat which was unable to reach the others because of low tide.

An RCAF helicopter, guided by flickering lights of fish-boats, later made a hazardous night landing on the sandbar to rescue the other men.

Not five minutes later, there was square dancing in the lobby.

A 19-car special from Winnipeg had arrived a few minutes earlier and many of the fans from it joined in. The party was started and as each hour passed, more people arrived to keep it rolling.

The horde from Edmonton was late, their four special CNR trains delayed several hours by a slide in interior B.C., but they added their voice to the hoopa by early evening.

Nobody expects the din to fade until the wee hours of Sunday, long after the last point has been scored at Empire Stadium.

First two French atomic devices were exploded at Reg-gane in the Sahara desert early this year.

Stetsons Everywhere

Cigar Was Lit—So Was Blonde

By JIM PEACOCK

VANCOUVER (CP)—The natives could be excused if they thought it was a convention of cowboys, for the white hat that has become the symbol of Calgary was everywhere.

But in fact it was the lid blowing for celebrations preceding today's Grey Cup football championship game between Edmonton Eskimos and Ottawa Rough Riders, kickoff scheduled at 1:30 p.m. PST.

Pre-game celebrations started as early as Tuesday, but they were mild and subdued by Friday's standards.

Even Thursday night, in the heavy rains and the absence of the vanguard of Calgary fans who have been largely responsible for the festive atmosphere that surrounds this sports classic, this city was quiet.

Friday, however, that all changed. The weather improved—it was cool, mostly cloudy, but without rain—and six special trains, twice as many special flights and all the regular service poured fans into town by the thousands.

By noon Friday, when the 24-car white hot CPR special from Calgary arrived only slightly late, the noise of the hoopa could be heard for blocks.

Led from the train by a cigar-smoking (yes, it too was lit) young blonde, wrapped in fur and topped with a 10-gallon white hat, the Calgary crowd immediately set out to turn the city upside down.

It Was a Western Sweep In the Beauty Division

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mary Jo Powell, 19, a dark-haired beauty from Edmonton, Friday night was chosen Miss Grey Cup 1960.

The West made a sweep of the annual beauty contest which accompanies the East-

West football classic, with Miss Saskatchewan Rough-riders, 20-year-old Lee Oakenfold, named second and Miss Winnipeg Blue Bombers, Patricia Little, 17, in third place.

Miss Powell is a student at the University of Alberta. She is secretary of the student union and a member of the University symphony orchestra.

She is five feet eight inches tall, weighs 125 pounds, has green eyes and vital statistics of 36-24-36.

Vancouver Blows Lid

Cigar Was Lit—So Was Blonde

VANCOUVER (CP)—The natives could be excused if they thought it was a convention of cowboys, for the white hat that has become the symbol of Calgary was everywhere.

But in fact it was the lid blowing for celebrations preceding today's Grey Cup football championship game between Edmonton Eskimos and Ottawa Rough Riders, kickoff scheduled at 1:30 p.m. PST.

Pre-game celebrations started as early as Tuesday, but they were mild and subdued by Friday's standards.

Even Thursday night, in the heavy rains and the absence of the vanguard of Calgary fans who have been largely responsible for the festive atmosphere that surrounds this sports classic, this city was quiet.

Friday, however, that all changed. The weather improved—it was cool, mostly cloudy, but without rain—and six special trains, twice as many special flights and all the regular service poured fans into town by the thousands.

By noon Friday, when the 24-car white hot CPR special from Calgary arrived only slightly late, the noise of the hoopa could be heard for blocks.

Led from the train by a cigar-smoking (yes, it too was lit) young blonde, wrapped in fur and topped with a 10-gallon white hat, the Calgary crowd immediately set out to turn the city upside down.
